POPE IS REPORTED BETTER; PULSE AND HEART BOTH WEAK

Doctors Express Hope That Pontiff Soon Will Recover; Others Not Reassured.

NAUSEA IS CONTINUING

Some Watchers Assert Examination by Specialist Revealed Serious Disorder.

By Associated Press.

ROME, April 10.—At noon today the condition of the Pope was much better, but the weakness of his heart and his intermittent pulse were still causing anxiety.

The doctors permitted him to eat an egg with broth, but the patient was able to take it only with difficulty.

Dr. Andrea Amici declared today that he hopes by next week Pius X will be convalescent.

Prof. Marchiafava this afternoon gave confirmation of the continuance of the improvement in the Pope's condition. He said that his only fear was that complications might arise, more especially through lack of nourishment, owing to the absence of appetite. Efforts will be made to administer artificial nourishment.

Despite the optimistic reports of the doctors, some of those immediately surrounding the Pope depict the situation as grave. They assert that a specialist who made an examination of the Pontiff reported the presence of from 10 to 12 degrees of albumen.

The sisters and niece of the Pope remained with him this morning from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock.

Said He Felt Better.

Just before 11 Cardinal Merry del Val, Papal Secretary of State, entered the bed chamber. The Pope said, in reply to the Cardinal's inquiry, that he felt better. He then spoke about the pilgrims who had come to the Vatican from Venice, and expressed his regret that he would be unable to see them.

The condition of the Pope was found to be practically unchanged when his physicians, Prof. Ettore Marchiafava paid an early morning visit to the Pontiff. He had passed a comparatively calm night, disturbed only by occasional fits of coughing and periods of great perspiration.

The Pope rejoiced to see the morning bring a change in the weather. The sun streamed through the ample window of his bedrom. Although this seemed to encourage his spirits, he continued to feel nauseated and averse to taking nourishment, notwithstanding the efforts made by his own cook, Stefano Inchiostro, an old servant, who came with him from Venice. Inchiostro keeps a cow in the Vatican garden to provide milk for the Pontiff.

Prof. Marchiafava said after his morning visit that he considered the unchanged positions as auguring well for a decided turn to the better. The only specific apprehension is heart weakness.

Prayers Said in Churches.

In all the churches of Rome this morning special prayers were offered for the recovery of the Pope. The faithful recited with the clergy the Latin: "Oremus pro Pontific Nostro" ("Let us pray for our Pontiff Pius").

Dr. Amici, who spent the night at the Pope's bedside said this morning that his patient rested sufficiently well. His temperature now is a little above 97.

Dr. Amici denied most emphatically the persistent reports that the Pope is suffering from nephritis, and reiterated that the whole trouble is a relapse from his recent attack of influenza.

RAMPOLLA IN LINE FOR PONTIFICATE

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1913, by Press Publishing Co. (New York World.)

ROME, April 10.—Although the Pope's condition remains stationary, the possibility of a fatal termination raises, in acute form, the question of his successor. All the Post-Dispatch correspondent can now state positively is that the nationality of the new Pope will remain Italian, despite various currents of opinion, both in Italy and abroad, in favor of changing what has become a time-honored tradition.

The name of Rampolla naturally comes up first as the most probable choice of the new conclave. His exclusion at the last conclave in 1903 through Austrian influence when at the climax of a dramatic scene the late Cardinal Puzyna, whose nomination to the purple was virtually forced on Leo XIII by Francis Joseph, solemnly pronounced his master's veto, after Rampolla had been elected by 29 votes against the present Pope's 21.

No sooner was he in power than Pius X, by a solemn act, abolished forever this power of veto by a foreign temporal power, which had been the cause of his elevation to the pontificate.

This obstacle to Rampolla's election being now removed, the attributes in his favor remain unchanged. He is still under 70, of a noble Sicilian family, has filled the highest positions of the Vatican at home and abroad, and, above all, his policy is more in keeping with the spirit of the age than is that of the present Pontiff, whose reactionary tendencies have caused serious disquiet to Catholics.

PRESIDENT GODFATHER TO BOY BORN MARCH 4

Baby Woodrow Manch's Pa Writes the Lad Is Sixteenth Child in His Family.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Woodrow Manch, born March 4, in Wapato, Yakima County, Wash., is to have for his godfather the President of the United States. A telegram announcing the honor will be received today by his father, Peter Manch. Young Woodrow did not solicit the honor; his father did.

President Wilson, in accepting, made it clear that his action was not to be taken by the country-at-large as an indication that he proposed to stand in the same relationship to all babies born on the day of his inauguration.

Manch wrote the President in German. He informed the President that young Woodrow was the sixteenth child born to him and Mrs. Manch, and that he, Mrs. Manch and his sons and daughters of voting age were Democrats and had cast a solid vote last November for the Democratic ticket. He added that when the new arrival reached the age of 21 he, too, would vote the Democratic ticket or a riot in the Manch family would follow.

BODY TO GRAVE IN SKIFF

Flood in Columbus, Ky., Causes Unique Funeral.

COLUMBUS, Ky., April 10.—A funeral procession of skiffs passed through the streets were behind a boat bearing the body of the Rev. George R. Flowers. The home of the Rev. Mr. Flowers, who died yesterday morning, is in a section of the city still under several feet of water, as a result of the recent flood, and the body was lowered from the second story into a boat.

The procession then moved to the home of a friend of the deceased on a hill in the residence section of the town, where the funeral srevices were held.

FLOOD DONATES CHURCH

West Virginians to Use Edifice Which Has 800-Pound Bell.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 10.—Historic Blennerhassett Island has fallen heir to a frame church with an 800-pound bell which was deposited on the island by the Ohio River during the recent flood.

A few days before the water had receded the inhabitants of the island moved the big church building to a desirable spot, where it will be used. Nothing could be found about the church to indicate where it had come from. With the exception of the floor, the edifice is in good condition.

1913 SHIP LOSS $7,000,000

Damage in First 3 Months Heaviest in 50 Years.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The year 1913 thus far has proved the most disastrous three months which Atlantic ship owners have experienced in nearly 50 years. Storms have already caused $7,000,000 damage, not including loss suffered by the coasting trade.

In one month reports show 328 sailing vessels and 510 steamships were either lost of partly wrecked.

MRS. MILTON IS MRS. KOKEN AGAIN BY DIVORCE DECREE

GIRL TELLS ABOUT MONEY

She Says Widow of Rich Iron Man Said That Milton's Requests Made Her Nervous.

When women friends called last fall on Mrs. Rose Koken Milton of 3522 Hawthorne boulevard, to congratulate the former widow of a wealthy iron manufacturer on her marriage, she showed to them the photograph of a Mrs. Smith, which, she said, her new husband, Alva J. Milton, had placed on their bureau.

Two of the women friends told, in Mrs. Milton's divorce suit Wednesday, of seeing the photograph, and of hearing the wife's frank statement that Milton was in love with the original. On this ground, and because of Milton's attempts to get money from his bride, Judge McQuillin granted to Mrs. Milton a divorce and the restoration of her former name, Koken. She married Milton Aug. 17, last, and they separated Nov. 15.

"More Than Friendship."

Mrs. Ben Westhus of 2361 South Thirty-ninth street was one of the witnesses. She testified that not long after Mrs. Koken's marriage to Milton she went to the Hawthorne boulevard home and that Mrs. Koken-Milton showed to her the photograph of Mrs. Smith on the bureau and said her husband had placed it there.

Milton came in about that time, Mrs. Westhus said, and declared that his acquaintance with the original of the picture was "more than ordinary friendship." He said, Mrs. Westhus testified, that he had been in an automobile wreck with Mrs. Smith and that he was in love with her. "I can't marry her," she said that he added, "because the law doesn't allow a man to have more than one wife."

Mrs. Nellie Flynn testified that she saw the picture, and that Mrs. Koken-Milton told her how Milton talked continually about Mrs. Smith. She also said Mrs. Milton showed her a stick pin, a watch fob and other jewelry which, she said, the woman of the photograph had "lavished on" Milton.

Mrs. Flynn said she once went out for the evening with the Miltons, and that Milton was cold toward his wife all the evening, deliberately picked a quarrel with her on the way home, and said, when they got to the house, that he did not wish to be near her. Both Mrs. Flynn and Mrs. Westhus praised Mrs. Koken-Milton's behavior toward Milton.

Requests for Money.

Katie Maloney, a domestic, told of the photograph on the bureau, and told, also, of Milton's repeated demands on his wife for money, which she said caused Mrs. Milton to tell him, "If you don't quit asking me for money, I'll be a nervous wreck." She told of carrying messages from Milton to his wife, relating to his requests for money.

The wife, in her testimony, related that Milton asked her on the morning after the wedding for $1400, saying he had some debts to pay. Before the marriage, she said, he told her that he earned a salary of $5000 a year. When she refused him the $1400, she testified, he grew cold toward her, and this manner did not change, except when he renewed his requests for money. His final request, she related, was for $2000, and when she refused it, he left her.

A. P. Sigmund of 3225 South Jefferson avenue testified that Milton took one of his stepsons, Mrs. Koken's son, to an improper resort on North Leonard avenue.

Milton was not in court, and no lawyer appeared for him. At the time of the Milton-Koken marriage, it was stated by members of the bride's family that Milton had been her childhood sweetheart. He was 36 years old and she was 40 at the time of the marriage.

SALOON IN WHICH CARROLL WAS SHOT LOSES ITS LICENSE

Commissioner Anderson Takes Action as Result of Repeated Offenses.

OWNER'S SIDE IS HEARD

Harry O'Brien Called to Excise Office to Tell About Alleged Violations.

The license for Harry O'Brien's saloon at 2300 Olive street, where "Red" Simons shot Emmett Carroll the night of March 31, was revoked by Excise Commissioner Anderson Thursday. The killing, and the fact that O'Brien had twice before been cited for violation of the excise rules, were reasons given by the Commissioner for his action.

O'Brien, testifying in his own behalf, said Tony Foley, former leader of the Bottoms Gang, was not connected with the place, and that Foley's brother Paul, who O'Brien said was 24 years old, was manager.

Policemen testified that Tony Foley's name had appeared on the window as manager, but that later the "Tony" had been erased. Tony Foley told a Post-Dispatch reporter a few days ago that he was manager, and that Paul, who he said was 18 years old, assisted him.

The policemen on the beat had reported to the Excise Commissioner that the saloon was managed by an ex-convict and the police characters hung about there.

Anderson summoned O'Brien and Foley, but did not call on the policemen to testify.

At another time, O'Brien, was cited by the police on the charge that women had been seen in his place, one drinking at a table, another playing the piano. Anderson found that the only women who had called there, so far as he could learn, had stepped in to take lunch to a man employed there, one of the women being his wife, and he notified O'Brien that this must stop. The policemen were not called to testify.

Harry O'Brien applied for a saloon license early in December. He gave as references Adolph C. Schierenberg, a druggist at 2301 Cass avenue; J. Keeban, a newsdealer, 2515 University street, and Robert McCann, 2622 Cass avenue.

On Dec. 7 Capt. Hess of the Dayton Street District, after investigating O'Brien's references, reported to the Excise Commissioner that O'Brien was employed in the circulation department of the Republic, and that he was a man of excellent character. O'Brien at that time lived at 4044 Kennerly avenue.

License of Saloon at 825 Locust Street Is Revoked.

The dramshop license of Thomas Finnerty, 825 Locust street, was revoked Thursday by Excise Commissioner Anderson on testimony of the police that women had been seen drinking there, without ordering meals, that the place was noisy and that warnings had been ignored. Anderson stated that if Finnerty could convince Capt. Hess that he would hereafter conduct the place in an orderly manner the license might be restored.

DRAINAGE EXPERTS CONVENE TO PLAN FLOOD RELIEF

Acting Mayor Lazarus Welcomes Delegates to the Third National Congress.

ACTION BY U. S. DEMANDED

Isham Randolph Advocates New Federal Department to Control the Rivers.

The Third National Drainage Congress was called to order at the Planters Hotel by Edmund T. Perkins, chairman of the Executive Committee, Thursday morning. Bishop Tuttle offered prayer. Sam Lazarus, the new President of the City Council, welcomed the delegates as acting Mayor.

One of the members of the Executive Committee of the Congress, who is present, is Miss Maud M. Griffith of Clinton, Mo., secretary of the Missouri Women Farmers' Club, and a member of the Executive Board of the International Congress of Farm Women. Miss Griffith owns 1600 acres of land near Clinton. The Women Farmers' Club is made up of 40 women who own a vast area of land in Southeast Missouri.

The most important business of the congress is to formulate a plan to be presented to the Federal Congress looking toward prevention of loss of life and property by floods, and with this is bound up the reclamation of swamp land and of lands that are overflowed frequently.

Action by U. S. Demanded.

R. B. Oliver of Cape Girardeau, Mo., replied to the address of welcome, and read an address in which he said that according to eminent engineering authority the flood waters of the Mississippi can be controlled and the levees on both sides of the stream be made absolutely secure and safe at an expenditure of $60,000,000.

Congress, he said, ought to grant the relief demanded at once, and further refusal to do so he characterized as little short of a crime. The national Government, he said, has expended large sums for irrigation, and he expressed the belief that like expenditures for reclamation of swamp or overflowed lands should be undertaken.

In Missouri, the speaker said, more than 1,500,000 acres of wet, swampy, overflowed land have been reclaimed in the last decade, and more than 750,000 acres now are in process of reclamation.

Oliver called attention to the fact that Missouri has the largest drainage district in the United States, the Little River district in Southeast Missouri, where 550,000 acres are overflowed and flooded by the streams originating in the Ozarks. Within its limits 750 miles of dredged ditches and levees have been built, he said, almost equal to the distance between St. Louis and New Orleans.

"The drainage plan for this district," said Oliver, "has been approved by the highest engineering authorities in civil life, and by the engineering department of the Mississippi River Commission of the national Government."

Gov. Major briefly welcomed the delegates.

The Governor, mentioning the proposed creation of a department of public works with a cabinet officer at its head, pointed to David R. Francis, president of the congress, and said:

"We have here in Missouri a man who could well fill that cabinet office."

President Francis Speaks.

President Francis, before reading his address, suggested that Col. George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal, is the best equipped man for the proposed Cabinet portfolio.

"No age of the world," he said, "has paid so much attention as the present to the preservation of human life and the betterment of sanitary conditions generally. The Panama Canal was made possible only through scientific discoveries for the prevention of fatal diseases."

Francis said the value of the swamp lands that have been drained has been clearly demonstrated in Missouri. He referred to the Little River drainage district, 90 miles long and 10 miles wide, where the entire expense of reclaiming 488,000 acres under the plan now in operation will be only $5,000,000. The appraised value added to the land by such drainage, he said, is $13,250,000, and of this only 40 per cent is to be assessed against the land owners.

Francis made a plea for a comprehensive plan of reclamation of swamp lands, which, he said, should be designed by the Federal Government. This would obviate local and State disputes, and it would cost the National Government only the expense of the surveying and the engineering.

Isham Randolph Speaker.

Isham Randolph of Chicago, the engineer who built the Chicago drainage canal, in his speech, urged prompt measures to prevent floods along the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers and their tributaries, declared that such regulation of inland waters is a Federal duty, and proposed the creation of a new department of public works, the head of which shall be a member of the President's Cabinet.

He quoted a telegram from President Wilson to the executive chairman of the Drainage Congress, as follows: "The calamity in Ohio and Indiana makes clearer than ever before the imperative and immediate necessity for a comprehensive

FANTASTIC CUBIST ART EXHIBIT LIKELY TO BE SEEN HERE

After St. Louis art enthusiasts had almost despaired of being able to bring to this city the now famous exhibition of post-impressionist and cubist pictures at Chicago, Director R. A. Holland of the Art Museum announced, Thursday, there was a good chance of bringing part or all of the exhibition here.

The pictures are the most-talked-of things in present-day art because of their revolutionary ideas in painting They have attracted much interest wherever shown. They have been praised, condemned and caricatured all over the country.

Holland said he had been trying for a long time to arrange for an exhibition here, but had been told that other cities had booked them for a long time ahead. The display is called "The International Exhibition of Modern Art" and is given under the direction of the American Association of Painters and Sculptors.

F. E. A. Curley, curator of the City Art Museum, who has returned from a trip to Chicago to inspect the exhibition, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter, Thursday that he found the collection exceedingly interesting. He was not, however, prepared to give the specimens of radical art his approval. That they were even "educative" he admitted.

More than 40,000 persons, he said, saw the exhibition Saturday and Sunday. There is some talk of having these pictures exhibited in St. Louis, but nothing definite has been done in that direction.

"There are 450 pictures," he said, "by the so-called radical artists of France chiefly. A group of American painters is represented, their work being shown in a separate room. The work shows that they are influenced by Arthur B. Davies, president of the Association of American Painters and Sculptors. This association is formed of the more radical spirits, who are inclined to feel that the National Academy is too conservative.

Curator Curley said the collection might be called in a general way expressionist, rather than post-impressionist. He describes it as fantastic.

The picture that attracts most attention, he says, is called "King and Queen Surrounded by Nudes." This is by Marcel Duchant.

"Not one person in 20," said Curley, "is able to make out what is meant by Duchant in this work, and it is the artist's intention that they shouldn't."

DRUNKEN GIRLS AT CLUB IN COUNTRY COMPLAINED OF

Woman Testifies to "Disgraceful" Scenes at Premises.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians' Athletic Club at Ferguson, was the subject of investigation in Judge McElhiney's Court at Clayton, Thursday, when the Court took under consideration the motion to make permanent the temporary injunction issued Sept. 14 last against the club's continuing to operate on the premises.

The original injuction was obtained by Edwin W. Mills, when he was prosecuting attorney, on the ground that the club was conducted in such a manner as to corrupt the morals of its members and of those who lived near by, that it depreciated the value of neighboring real estate and was a general public nuisance.

Neighbors Are Witnesses.

The club has nine acres of land in the southwest corner of Ferguson. There is a dance hall and a clubhouse on the premises. Several persons who live near testified for the State.

L. W. Kraeger said persons on the club grounds conducted themselves in such a manner that his wife and children were afraid to remain at home Sunday unless he was with them, and that it was necessary for him to stay at home to protect his property. He said one Sunday he had to put 20 drunken men from the club off his property and that it has been a regular Monday morning job for him to repair his fence, broken by men from the club.

Kraeger said that one Sunday he sat up all night because some men from the club were sleeping off "drunks," lying alongside his fence, and he was afraid they might try to enter his house.

Mrs. Mary A. Anderson testified that it was a common sight to see young men and women embracing in public on the club grounds, the girls indulging in high kicking. She said the girls and young men got intoxicated together and that two girls on one occasion were so drunk that they became lost on her premises and she had to show them how to get away. In a church, a block away, the witness said, worship was disturbed by music and the sound of dancing feet in the club's dance hall.

T. A. Wisemann testified that on Sunday evenings dozens of intoxicated men from the club would run across his property, using profane and insulting language in the hearing of his family on the back porch.

Edward Tiffin, a real estate dealer, testified that once he was awakened at 1 a. m. by a crowd of intoxicated men from the club who were cursing loudly.

D. F. Reese told the court that in his opinion the environment was such, on account of the proximity of the club to his home, that he did not regard it as a good moral atmosphere in which to rear his six children.

Oscar Boatman testified he had bought a bottle of beer at the clubhouse on a Sunday afternoon, though he is not a member, and that he bar was doing a big business.

109 FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES VOTE TO QUIT MISSOURI

Members of Western Union Object to Drastic Provisions of Orr Anti-Compact Law and Propose to Discontinue Business in State April 30.

REVELLE SAYS THEY NEED HAVE NO FEAR

Commissioner Holds Concerns Need Only to Be Competitive—He Would License Co-operative Exchanges if Threat Holds.

ORR LAW WHICH AIMS AT INSURANCE TRUST

IN any proceeding against or prosecution of any insurance company under the provisions of this article it shall be prima facie evidence that such company is a member of a pool, trust, agreement, confederation or understanding to control, effect or fix the price or premium to be paid for insuring property against loss or damage by fire, lightning or storm, if it be shown that such company, or any agent, or representative thereof, in writing insurance has used any insurance rate, or made use of or consulted any rate book, paper or card containing any insurance rate, prepared, published, kept or furnished by any person, association of persons, or bureau employed by representing or acting on behalf of any other insurance company or association in and about the making and publishing of insurance rate for use in any portion of this State.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 10.—Insurance Commissioner Revelle, speaking today of the action of 109 fire insurance companies, in deciding to suspend business in Missouri April 30, because of the State's new insurance legislation, said the resulting situation would be serious.

Property owners in St. Louis and Kansas City, he said, would be particularly likely to suffer from such action. He said the apprehensions of the companies concerning the anti-trust provision of the Orr bill are groundless, and he raised the question whether they were acting in good faith.

If the companies do business on a competitive basis and do not form combinations to fix rates they need have no fear of the Missouri insurance laws, he said. But if agencies are established for the purpose of increasing rates or preparing agreements with the approval of the different concerns, he stated, they will face prosecution under the anti-trust provisions of the statute.

Affiliated With Bureaus.

The 109 companies which now threaten to suspend all business in the State April 30, and not to permit agents to cancel and rewrite policies in the meantime, are affiliated with the Western Union of Fire Underwriters and the Western Insurance Bureau.

There are 148 fire insurance companies operating in Missouri, not counting 18 regular mutual fire insurance companies, six Missouri town mutuals and three miscellaneous mutuals.

Of the 148 regular fire companies, only four are Missouri concerns and only one of these is large. Thirty-four are concerns organized in Europe.

The greater number of the fire companies are members either of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the Western Union, which is an association of stockholders and general agents, or the Western Insurance Bureau. The insurance superintendent has no figures upon the number of union and nonunion companies, but he says the large majority of the companies are so-called union companies. The nonunion companies are small concerns with a few exceptions.

Revelle departed at noon for Kansas City, where he will submit a list of rules governing the business of inter-insurance exchanges to representatives of those concerns which he has prepared. These are to govern the amount of risks to be assumed.

There is only one large Missouri fire insurance company and a few small ones. These are not large enough to handle more than a small portion of the fire risks in this State, and they could not undertake to handle the immense risks of the two large cities.

It has been suggested by the Attorney-General that Missourians could meet the situation caused by the withdrawal of the foreign fire insurance companies by the organization of a number of insurance companies. He says there is enough capital and enough State pride among Missouri capitalists to see that the State does not suffer from the drastic threats of the big fire companies of other states.

Co-Operation Held to Be Cheaper.

Revelle says interinsurance, or co-operative companies, can operate much cheaper than regular fire companies for the reason that they have no salaried officers. The regular companies hold they are unable to operate profitably when their losses run higher than 52 per cent of the premiums collected. The reciprocal, or interinsurance companies, may operate successfully if the loss rate runs as high as 75 per cent of the amount of premiums collected, the members prorating the losses.

Interinsurance concerns have been operating in the last two years in the State without licenses. They are now carrying many risks in St. Louis, one such St. Louis concern having 25 members. He says if the fire companies should withdraw that in five years the interinsurance or reciprocal exchanges, would prove so popular that 75 per cent of the insurance would be handled by them, regardless of the return of the regular fire companies to the State.

Some Certain to Quit.

"I can hardly believe that the large companies expect really to withdraw from this State," Revelle declared. "I am sure some of the companies will not withdraw, and I also am sure some will leave.

"There is absolutely no reason for the officials of the companies being afraid of the anti-trust provisions. It is stated that the officials say the law is so drastic that agents might make promises or statements that would result in stockholders of the company being sent to jail.

"That statement is unfounded. The anti-trust provision has been in force in Missouri for some time, according to a ruling of our Supreme Court, and in the Orr bill it was incorporated to make it specifically apply to all companies doing business here.

"The act of an agent has been held to be the act of the company, but the officials and stockholders cannot be put in prison unless it is shown that the premises or statements of the agent were made under explicit instructions from his company.

"The insurance companies are in no more danger from prosecution than merchants would be if they combined to fix rates on merchandise. All business is on the same basis in that respect. The objection of the large insurance companies seems to be that the Legislature of Missouri passed the bill making the anti-trust provision specifically applicable to them.

"I am not apprehensive that the situation will become acute. It would be only a matter of a short time until some of the companies not affiliated with the central organizations would be able to take care of the business. The formation of reciprocal co-operative companies in the meantime could take care of most of the losses."

Agents of 109 Companies Vote to Withdraw From Missouri.

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—Leading fire insurance companies of the United States and Europe will discontinue writing insurance in Missouri, if a resolution unanimously adopted at a meeting here last night, offered by representatives of 109 companies, members of the Western Union, is carried into effect. This decision was reached, it was said, "because of the enactment by the Missouri Legislature of a drastic anti-compact law, intended to force lower fire insurance rates by forbidding any agreement or co-operation as to rates."

BUSINESS IS IN "CHAOTIC STATE"

St. Louis fire insurance agents, representing the big Eastern and foreign insurance companies, told a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday that they had received no notification of the intention of the companies to suspend business in Missouri on account of the enactment of the anti-trust provision of the Orr insurance law.

The agents were inclined to view the situation with alarm. The impression prevailed that many of the most important companies would withdraw, leaving the State, and especially St. Louis, virtually without insurance protection. The agents declared no real estate loans could be made without the property affected being insured, and wholesale merchants and manufacturers would not care to sell on credit to merchants who could not insure their stocks of goods.

"Condition Is Chaotic."

"The agents are all apprehensive," said Sam D. Capen of the firm of George D. Capen & Co. "The business is in a chaotic condition, for no agent knows how to proceed under the drastic anti-trust section of the law. Our agency has been doing business in St. Louis for 50 years, but I would rather quit business than to violate the law and run the risk of going to jail.

"The law is so drastic that if any two agents should happen to give the same rate on a risk they might be liable to prosecution, and the fact that they had made the same rate would be prima facie evidence under the new law of an understanding or agreement of some kind.

"Take, for illustration, a big mercantile establishment of St. Louis carrying $3,000,000 of insurance. It would be necessary to split the risk among 150 companies, as no one company would care to assume such a great burden. If the agent who got the business made the same rate for each company that took its share of the risk he would be liable to prosecution. He would be confronted with the proposition of having to make 150 different rates on this one risk to escape the provisions of the law. How could he do it?

"Conditions such as this make it impossible for the agents to determine how they are going to be able to conduct their business so as to keep out of jail, even if the companies should not withdraw from the State."

The reports of the insurance companies doing business in St. Louis show that in 1912 they collected premiums on St. Louis business aggregating $2,994,722.-57, and incurred losses of $2,366,957.73. The total premiums collected in the State by all companies was $8,560,701.32, with losses aggregating $6,069,745.87.

Gov. Major, who is attending the Drainage Congress in St. Louis Thursday, told a Post-Dispatch reporter at the Planters Hotel that the threat of the insurance companies to withdraw their business from this State was much ado about nothing.

"The Orr law has not changed conditions in Missouri," said Gov. Major. "The insurance companies, under this law, can conduct their business as well as under previous laws. If they are in no unlawful combination to control or maintain rates they will have nothing to fear. If they are in a combination, of course they will be liable to prosecution."

ALL ELECTIONS ON G. O. P. TICKET TO BE CONTESTED

Citizens' Committee Decides to Try to Oust Winners on City Republican Ticket.

A decision to contest the election of Henry W. Kiel for Mayor and other Republican candidates shown to be elected by the returns of the municipal election was reached Thursday by a Citizens Committee, made up of Simon supporters, headed by James J. Barrett. The contest against Kiel will be instituted against the wishes of Dr. John H. Simon, defeated Democratic candidate, according to Barrett.

"Dr. Simon will sign the petition of contest, and the committee will do the rest," said Barrett. "Dr. Simon has said that he did not wish to enter into a contest, but we have made a thorough investigation and find that conditions warrant the contesting of the election of Kiel, E. R. Kinsey for President of the Board of Public Improvements, Edmond Koeln for Collector, M. R. H. Witter for City Register, Charles E. Mohrstadt for City Marshal and Otto G. Koenig, Joseph M. Ebeling and Gustav J. Hermann for the City Council."

The members of the Citizens Committee, other than Barrett, are Frank S. Kowalski, E. B. Alexander, John B. Muth and Ben Bernsen. All the members of the committee were active supporters of Dr. Simon in the primary election contest against Saunders Norvell. The committee was named at a meeting held last Saturday.

Drainage Congress Meets Here to Plan Relief From Floods

"In his reply, our executive chairman," said Randolph, "with a boldness born of faith, says 'the National Drainage Congress accepts the responsibility of presenting to the Congress of the United States a plan to alleviate and prevent the recurrence of loss of life and property.'"

The speaker said that securing channel capacity by excavation to care for such vast volumes of water as these rivers carry in flood time is a task too prodigious to be considered, and he urged that the only method of keeping the waters from spreading is to build on each side of the streams levees so far apart and of such height that the necessarily heightened flood plane will not overtop them.

"This great Government," he said, "needs a new department, the Cabinet a new portfolio. This belief does not minimize my appreciation of the army engineer. But West Point does not graduate men enough to supply the engineering needs of a country like ours."

Urges New U. S. Department.

Randolph said he had been astonished by an examination of the roster of army engineers in active service. He found all told 118 men, of whom eleven are engaged in building the Panama canal, two are in the Philippines, one in Hawaii and 14 are detailed as instructors at West Point and other training schools, leaving only 90 engineers to cope with all the requirements of the United States, including a navigable river system of 26,410 miles.

"Numerically," said Randolph, "the whole force is not enough to conduct the engineering operations of the Pennsylvania railroad. With 75,000 square miles of swamp land to be drained and protected and 1,200,000 square miles of arid lands to be reclaimed by irrigation, my argument for a national department of public works rests upon facts."

GANG AUTO CHAUFFEUR WALDICK IS ARRESTED

Police Say Grand Jury Has Found Perjury Indictment; He Furnishes Bond.

John Waldick, chauffeur of the automobile in which Emmett Carroll was hauled, dying, from the saloon of Harry O'Brien, 2300 Olive street, to the corner of Glasgow and Gamble streets, was arrested by Detectives O'Brien, Doyle and Murphy Wednesday on orders from the Circuit Attorney's office.

The police were informed the grand jury had voted an indictment against Waldick, charging him with perjury in his testimony. Waldick is said to have declared he believed Carroll was drunk when Carroll was placed in the machine.

Waldick is 41 years old and lives at 3700 Lucky street. He furnished bail to answer the charge.

HIT IN JAW BY BULLET THAT STRUCK OTHER MAN

Shot Pierces Italian's Shoulder and Then Strikes Man Sitting in Barber Chair.

W. J. Bruner of 2608 Marshall avenue, Maplewood, was shot in the jaw Wednesday night while he was sitting in Beatrie's barber shop in Maplewood. The bullet was fired at Alphonso Bastore, 25 years old, a fruit peddler, by Tony Jaurro. It pierced Bastore's right shoulder, passed through the front window of the barber shop, and lodged in Bruner's jaw.

Bastore is the fiance of Jaurro's 17-year-old daughter. Jaurro objected to Bastore as a son-in-law and followed his daughter to the barber shop where she had arranged to meet Bastore. In the quarrel between the men the shot was fired. Bastore and Jaurro were arrested.

WOMAN OBJECTS TO FEES OF $9251 CHARGED BY TROLL

Files Petition Protesting Acts of Former Administrator in Mary Parker Estate.

A petition was filed in the Probate Court Thursday by Mrs. Robert C. Ferguson objecting to settlements made by former Public Administrator Harry Troll in the estate of Mrs. Mary C. Parker. Mrs. Ferguson, who is one of the beneficiaries under Mrs. Parker's will, takes exceptions to charges of about $10,000 which are itemized in the annual and final settlements submitted by Troll.

Among these items are charges for an attorney's fee of $4000 and administrator's commissions totaling $5251.85.

Objects to Troll Fees.

Other expenditures to which Mrs. Ferguson objects are printing bills, an auctioneer's bill, water license bill, fees paid to real estate appraisers and charges incurred for making repairs or other work on property of the estate.

When a Post-Dispatch reporter asked Mrs. Ferguson's lawyer, former City Counselor Charles W. Bates, for a statement, he declined to discuss the case. It was said, however, by an attorney interested in the estate that Mrs. Ferguson's principal objections to the settlement are the fees received by Troll and his counsel. Mrs. Ferguson, it was stated, believes the charges are too high, and should be reduced.

The administrator of an estate is entitled by law to a commission of 5 per cent on all disbursements.

Took Charge at Fisher's Death.

Troll took charge of Mrs. Parker's estate in January, 1912, filing on the estate on the same day the executor named in the will, Sylvester J. Fisher, died. Troll's final settlement shows the estate is worth $68,727.13, consisting of $37,698.06 in cash, and a claim of $31,029.07 against the estate of Sylvester Fisher.

Mrs. Parker died Aug. 2, 1909, at Denver. She was a former resident of St. Louis. In her will she made bequests to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church for religious purposes. Fisher acted as executor of the estate under the will until his death. It is claimed by Troll that Fisher allowed property of the Parker etsate to become confused with his own.

MEMPHIS SHOWS A SIX-INCH RIVER RISE IN 24 HOURS

Refugees Pour Into the City From Other Districts Which Have Been Flooded.

LEVEE CRUMBLES BELOW

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 10.—The Mississippi River gauge here today registered 46.5 feet, a rise of five-tenths in the past 24 hours.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 10.—The levee near Wilson, Ark., went out late last evening, following the desertion of about 150 negro laborers, and, with a roar that could be heard for a mile, 100 feet of the earthen revetment collapsed. It was by a narrow margin that the workers along the levee who kept up the fight to the last minute reached places of safety.

When the current was hurled through the gap, which widened to 300 feet or more, negro cabins were tossed about, trees were swept down and carried away, but so far as can be ascertained, all of the inhabitants in the immediate proximity of the break got away. Wilson is a settlement of about 250 lumber workers and their families.

Other points considered in the greatest danger are Mound City and Osceola, Ark. At both points the levee is a foot or more above the water, but the river was being beaten into high waves and sweeping over the rain-soaked embankments.

As a result of the breaks, parts of Mississippi, Poinsetta, Cross and Crittenden counties will be flooded and with the water coming through the crevasse at Graves about 200,000 or 300,000 acres of St. Francis basin will be flooded.

Unprecedented rainfall was reported from throughout the Central Mississippi Valley and along streams tributary to the Mississippi River.

At Little Rock the precipitation for 18 hours was 9.36 inches. The Arkansas River is at flood stage and Forche Bayou, a sluggish creek south of Little Rock, is a torrent.

The gas supply of Memphis was cut off when the levee at the gas plant in the flooded section of a northern suburb collapsed. With the exception of the St. Louis & San Francisco lines railroad operations west of Memphis ceased because of washouts.

Several hundred refugees were brought to the Memphis refugee camp, where about 1200 persons are being housed.

Heavy Rains Keep River Almost Stationary at Cairo.

CAIRO, Ill., April 10.—As a result of excessive rains, the river is still high here, the gauge this morning registering 54.5 feet. This is less than one-tenth of a foot fall since yesterday morning.

Relief work in this vicinity is about finished. Indications are that no trains can enter Cairo for several days. Plans are being made here to send a delegation to Washington to urge a million dollar appropriation for the Cairo and drainage district levees. A 60-foot levee will be urged.

Train With Levee Piling Is Rushing to New Orleans.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 10.—A train of 11 cars, loaded to capacity with steel piling to be used in bracing the levees in the region of New Orleans, has been started from the Homestead mills and will have right of way over all roads in its race for New Orleans. The failure of the train to reach New Orleans before April 17, when the flood will be at its greatest height, may mean the destruction of millions of dollars' worth of property in and around the city. An agent of the United States Government is in charge of the train. He has authority to command assistance necessary to prevent delays.

FLOOD FUND IS COMPLETE

Emergency Committee Collected $65,000; Suspends Work.

The collection of funds for flood sufferers by the Citizens' Emergency Relief Association was completed Wednesday and the Executive Committee voted to suspend operations until relief is needed by sufferers from another disaster. It was announced that $65,000 had been turned over to the Governors of Ohio and Indiana and the National Red Cross, and that a balance of $334 remained in the treasury. Small contributions are yet being sent in.

S. B. Butler, secretary of the Executive Committee, estimates that $125,000 has been raised in St. Louis for flood relief. Walker Hill, treasurer of the Missouri State Board of the National Red Cross, announced that $56,787.60 had been received by that organization from contributions in St. Louis and this neighborhood for flood relief.

FISH EATS FROM PLATE

Tame Trout Feasts on Creamed Wheat, Beef and Worms.

WINSTED, Conn., April 10.—Pete, a tame trout which has its home in a walled reservoir at Highland Lake, has been taught to eat from a platter held on the surface of the water. At sight of the dish Peter will rise from the bottom of the water and take creamed wheat, bits of beef and angle worms from the partly submerged plate.

He shows his appreciation of the feast by flopping on his sides on the surface of the water. The trout is almost a foot long and weights more than a pound.

Monoplane Kills German.

GELSENKIRSCHEN, Prussia, April 10.—A German aviator, Lichte, was killed when making a flight in a monoplane. A gust of wind overturned the machine, which fell from a height of 120 feet.

$10,000 Worth of New Up-to-the-Minute High-Grade WAISTS at less than 50c on the Dollar

To Our Great Surprise Our Offer Was Accepted.

Big Sale Begins Friday at 8:30 a. m.

The sale that will be known as the greatest Waist sale by far that was ever conducted in this city. One of New York's foremost manufacturers of high-grade Waists found himself long on merchandise and very short on cash and offered them at about half their actual value, we ourselves being very much overloaded, and not in a position to handle such a large lot, rather than deliberately throw it down, knowing the high standard of quality, we felt duty bound to at least make an offer. We made a very ridiculous offer.

We certainly congratulate ourselves on being so fortunate as to launch such high-grade merchandise at such low prices. Never in the history of our business career have we been in a position to offer such values as these. All reproductions of the finest French models. By all means get in this sale, as it is the kind that only happens once in a lifetime. This is such an extraordinary occurrence, we have made preparations to suit the occasion and doubled our waist selling space and selling forces. Be on hand early and get the pick. You will be well repaid.

MISS MAC COY WON HONOR BY KEEPING SECRETS OF G. O. P.

"Committeeman From the Twenty-Ninth Ward" to Be Secretary to Mayor Kiel.

ONCE "OUT-BAWLED" BOSS

She Tells How Her Tears Vexed Howe and How She Got Along With the "Boys."

By Marguerite Martyn.

IF the walls of the Republican City Committee rooms in the Odd Fellows Building could speak they would bear witness to such ups and downs and changing fortunes in the affairs of men as only politics can produce.

It is an odd commentary that the only woman attached to the organization is likewise the only person to remain stationary and continuously at her post since the headquarters was established six years ago.

She is Miss Pearl Wilson MacCoy, formally known as secretary, but better known by the title conferred upon her by "the boys"—"Committeeman from the Twenty-ninth Ward."

When Jeptha D. Howe was chairman of the committee and a power to be reckoned with, he once, in one of his well-known lachrymose outbursts, "bawled out" Miss Mac Coy, as she tersely expresses it. There would have to be a new chairman or a new secretary of that committee, he declared.

And Mr. Howe, for once, proved a great prophet. Within a month he resigned and Miss Mac Coy remained.

Like Sister to "Boys."

AND "the boys," to adopt Miss Mac Coy's sisterly way of referring to august committeemen, remarked at the time: "Politicians may come and politicians may go, but Pearl stays on forever."

It is said by those in the know that the only certainty concerning the appointments to be made by the new Mayor is that of Miss Mac Coy as one of his private secretaries.

She is unanimously indorsed by the committeemen for the position, which will be a higher honor, but in many respects a continuance of the same relations she has held.

The cause of the aforesaid disagreement between Mr. Howe and Miss Mac Coy, though it was as sad as sad could be at the time, which was patched up long ago, when reviewed in its proper perspective may serve to answer even the principles now.

At least Miss Mac Coy laughed when she told me of it. It was all because the young woman, whose first name means "tears," could out-weep the weeping boss.

When he "bawled" her out she outbawled him.

Ex-Boss' Disposition.

"MR. HOWE had the most lovable disposition in the world at most times, but occasionally he would come into the office in a rage," said Miss Mac Coy.

"His manner could be just as violent at these times as it was gentle at others. The first time he bawled me out I was so taken by surprise I just sat down and cried.

"Isn't it odd how people nearly always have the least patience with the same faults in others which are reflected in themselves? Mr. Howe never could endure to see me weep."

Whatever reflection must be cast upon Mr. Howe, Miss Mac Coy does not strike you as being a weepy person. Indeed, she is firm, though gentle in her manner. She is a slender girl delicately cast and affects a fluffy, lacy style of dress.

Cousin of the President.

SHE is a second cousin of President Wilson, if you please. Her grandfather and his father were brothers. And she looks enough like the Wilson girls to be the President's own daughter.

When I had extricated her from a crowd of loud-talking, smoky-smelling men closely surrounding her desk, she took me into an adjoining counsel chamber, where we could be alone.

Two or three times different men thrust their heads in with some inquiry. Each time she dismissed the man summarily, and each one retired meekly enough.

"They only want me to intercede for them with Mr. Kiel. That is the biggest part of my work, acting as buffer to all the numberless people who have something to ask of him.

"Do you have many such occasions as you've described for getting your feelings hurt?" I inquired.

"No," she replied. "The boys are all perfectly lovely to me. My friends often ask me if contact with men from every locality of the city and from every walk of life where politicians are recruited isn't distasteful to a girl of quiet, refined and artistic tastes. But it isn't. Some of these men are rough hewn and plain spoken. I never have heard a word of profanity. I never have had anything but deference shown me. They often tell me I am a sort of safety valve keeping them from exploding into rough language when they are wrought up. But they seem rather to appreciate the restraining influence than otherwise.

Like Brothers to Her.

"THE boys just seem like brothers to me. Whenever there is some big doings at convention or election time they always agree that 'Pearl' must be provided with tickets and escort whether I am on duty or not.

"And I believe they regard me as a sister the way they make me the repository of their likes and fears and private troubles.

"If people knew as much as I do of the [illegible] and shams fellows, the side

She's to Be Assistant in Mayor's Office

that does not get publicity at campaign times, many estimates would have to be readjusted. The other side of Hank Weeke's troubles, for instance, would reveal him as a long suffering and much misunderstood man.

"Just let me call one of them by his first name and he is my friend for life. Mr. Becker, for example, will come in here mad at everybody. I ask 'What's the matter, Tub?'—you know they call him Tub because he is so short and round. He will unload his mind and pretty soon he is all sunshine again.'

Miss Mac Coy is not an easy person to interview. From her long experience she must know many stories of inside politics which would interest and enlighten us, whose fate is so largely sealed up in that committee's counsels, formal and informal.

Keeps State Secrets.

"I ATTRIBUTE my success to the fact that I do not tell state secrets," she explained.

She would far rather have talked to me about her art. It is not an unusual thing, I am told, to find her working on a water-color painting at her desk in that inauspicious atmosphere. She is a Saturday student at the School of Fine Arts.

"Do you think women as a rule would make good politicians?" I asked.

"Yes, indeed. Put me down as a suffragist," she replied. "I know women would better politics."

"But I mean, do you think they could play the game in all its intricacies?"

"Women are certainly not less diplomatic than men," she said. "They are not as straightforward as men, in a sense. But men are just as much given to petty jealousies and spitefulness and inconsistencies as the eternal feminine is supposed to be. On the other hand, women are literally more honest than men. They never will be bought and traded. And honesty is the best policy and the best politics in the long run. Mr. Kiel's career and his final victory are demonstrations of this. Certainly women are as capable of self-government as men.

"I've converted Mr. Kiel to woman's suffrage. Now, my great ambition is to persuade Mr. Schmoll to believe in votes for women."

"What qualities have you learned to admire most in the new Mayor?"

Generous and Charitable.

"HIS ability to forgive, his generosity and charity," she answered promptly. "I didn't mean merely the charity that comes from his pocketbook, although I've never known him to withhold that from even the most unworthy beggar, but has charity toward his enemies. He never harbors a grudge.

"Mr. Schmoll is the man I admire most as a type of politician, though," she added, after a pause. "If more men of his type, men of business ability and with so much means of their own that they are above bartering and personal ambition, would go into politics this world would be a better world to live in."

REMARRIED ON GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Village Blacksmith at Carsonville, Mo., and Wife Have Ceremony Over Again.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Butz celebrated their golden wedding Wednesday at their home at Carsonville, Mo. The celebration was attended by guests from St. Louis and Alton. They were remarried at St. Ann's Church, Normandy, the same church in which they were first married in 1863.

Frank Dietz, who was groomsman in 1863, served in the same capacity at the remarriage. Miss Margarete Raudman, who was bridemaid at the original marriage, is dead. Her place was taken by Mrs. Tobias Mueller, a neighbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Butz have lived at Carsonville during their entire married life. He is the "village blacksmith." Butz is 78 years old and his wife is 68. They are the parents of 12 children, all living. All attended the celebration except three daughters, who are nuns. Their five sons were ushers at the church.

TWO POUNDS OF BUTTER TO PAY TIP TO BELL BOY

Farmer in Chicago Also Says It Takes a Suckling Pig's Price to Go to Theater.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Frank James, an Iowa farmer, is here attending the First National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits.

Last night he attended a theater, making the trip to the playhouse in a cab, and before starting drank a bottle of milk and changed his room at a hotel.

He makes a comparison as to where the farmer falls short in getting his share.

Four blocks trip in cab, equivalent of four bushels of rye.

Tip to bellboy, equivalent of two pounds of butter.

Bottle of milk, three times what was paid for it on the farm.

Trip to theater, equivalent of price of one suckling pig.

"That just shows us what we get when he have to do the buying intsead of the selling," he said after the experience.

Baseball Players Won $10,550 for "Hitting the Bull" Last Season!

THE famous cut-out "Bull" Durham sign is erected in the outfield of league baseball parks throughout the United States. Every player who hits this giant "Bull" sign with a fairly-batted fly-ball in a regularly scheduled game, is presented with a check for $50.00 by the manufacturers of "Bull" Durham Tobacco. Last season these cut-out "Bull" Durham signs were hit 211 times in league games for a grand total of $10,550. Some of the famous baseball players who received $50.00 checks for "hitting the Bull" are: Chick Gandil, Walter Johnson, Ping Bodie, Jack Murray, Hal Maggart, Hans Lobert, Gabby Cravath and Ben Houser. An additional prize of 72 sacks of "Bull" Durham is awarded for every home-run made in regular league games in parks where these "Bull" Durham signs are erected. Last year, baseball players won 257,400 sacks ($12,870 worth) of "Bull" Durham by batting out 3575 home runs! Making a grand total of $23,420 awarded to baseball players by the manufacturers of "Bull" Durham Tobacco during the season of 1912.

EAST ST. LOUIS TO SPEND $100,000 TO ADVERTISE CITY

Money Has Been Raised and Contract Has Been Made to Spread Her Claims.

CHEAP COAL AND POWER

Untaxed Factory Sites With Remarkable Shipping Facilities Are Painted.

The commercial and manufacturing interests of East St. Louis have entered into a contract with a St. Louis advertising company for a $100,000 advertising campaign, to extend over two years, the fund for which was raised two months ago. The commercial and industrial advantages of the city are to be exploited in newspaper and magazine advertisements all over the country.

The St. Louis Advertising Men's League has taken up a suggestion that St. Louis spend $200,000 a year for the next three years, and a committee has been appointed to inquire into and recommend the most advantageous methods of advertising to be adopted.

Some Salient Facts.

In the East St. Louis campaign the following facts about the city will be made known everywhere:

The city has 70,000 population.

It is the third largest city in the State.

It is the second largest railroad center in the United States.

It has numberless acres of level ground for factory sites.

It has an abundant supply of bituminous coal that can be transported to factories more cheaply than in any other city of equal size in the country.

It has an unlimited quantity of high-grade water power which can be obtained from wells at small cost, or, filtered from the river, at slightly greater cost.

Factory Sites and Rail Facilities.

It has factory sites on three belt lines which connect with 27 steam trunk railways, affording direct movement from factories to all the jobbing and distributing centers of the United States.

By its geographical location the city is a rate-basing point between all sections of the country and being in the immediate center of the business section of the country it affords advantages in freight rates amounting to from 12 to 20 per cent.

All freight rates apply direct from and to factories and there are no extra switching charges to pay.

All kinds of labor, skilled and unskilled, can be drawn from the 1,000,000 population in the immediate vicinity.

Cheap Electric Power.

Cheap electric power in any quantity for manufacturing and other purposes is now available and arrangements have been made by the East St. Louis & Suburban Electric Railway Co. to obtain 100,000 volts of hydro-electric power from the Keokuk dam, for distribution.

In 1900 the population of the city was 29,655. In 1910 it was 58,547, and the registration for the recent election shows that it is now close to 70,000.

The city is bigger than Mobile, Birmingham, Galveston, Chattanooga, Dubuque, Little Rock, Sacramento, South Bend, Terra Haute or Wichita.

The Commercial Club has 400 members. By its influence tax exemption for five years has been obtained for all new factories.

BRIDGE AT VALLEY FORGE

Historic Structure to Be Rebuilt in Enduring Concrete.

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—Gen. Sullivan's bridge, which Gen. Washington and his army used in passing over the Schuylkill River to winter quarters at Valley Forge, is to rise again in imperishable concrete. A $250,000 structure is planned, the money having been subscribed by patriotic men of wealth residing in the neighborhood of the historic spot. The construction of the bridge will be under the control of the Valley Forge commission.

TITANIC'S ANNIVERSARY

Ships Next Tuesday to Set Course Farther to South.

LONDON, April 10.—Next Tuesday, the anniversary of the collision of the steamer Titanic with an iceberg, will be the date for steamers this year to set a still further southerly course than the one adopted last January.

This decision was reached at a meeting of trans-Atlantic steamship companies in Brussels, with the understanding that a still further modification of the lane is to be made in the event of abnormal ice conditions.

BERING ICE GOES OUT; SHIP CAPTAIN MAROONED

Efforts Made to Reach Him by Native Boatmen Prevented by Floes.

NOME, Alaska, April 10.—The breaking up of the ice in Bering strait is preventing the rescue of Capt. William Schroeder, master of the wrecked whaling schooner Morris, who is marooned on Big Diomede Island, where he was left last fall. Other members of the party made their way across the ice from the island to the Alaska mainland last month, but Captain Schroeder was too weak to accompany them.

Native boatmen are trying to take him off but the ice floes prevent landing. A fast dog team is held ready at Cape Prince of Wales to bring Captain Schroeder to Nome as soon as the boatmen get him across to the mainland.

KILLS MAN WHO SENT NOTE INSULTING WIFE

Finds Him in Saloon, Shoots Him and Surrenders; Negress Kills Negro.

Believing that Thomas Payne, a negro, 30 years old, single, of 3133 La Salle street, had inspired an insulting note to his wife, Grace Love, Ike Love, also a negro, 30 years old, of 1111 South Cardinal avenue, found Payne in a saloon at 3101 Caroline street Wednesday night confronted him with Mrs. Love and James O'Conners, who said Payne induced him to write the note, and then shot Payne to death.

Payne was shot twice in the back and onece in the right arm. His body was sent to the morgue. Love surrendered.

Harry Hicks, 52 years old, a negro barber living at 2723 Lawton avenue, was stabbed in the left arm by Mrs. Marie O'Bannon, 47 years old, a negress of the same address, at 9:30 p. m., Wednesday, and died at the city hospital two hours later. Death was due to hemorrhage. The woman said that Hicks knocked her down twice, following a party in her room at which she said Hicks was a guest. She was arrested.

How American Women May Keep Faces Young

"The American smart woman ages early, far earlier than the English woman," says Christian Miller, F. C. I., the famous English health expert. She adds that our climate "so exhilarates that you over-exert yourselves and grow old before you know it. The same exhilarating air dries the skin. The skin that lacks moisture grows pale and withered looking and soon forms wrinkles.

"The American complexion" is best treated by applying pure mercolized wax, which causes the faded, lifeless cuticle to flake off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. Every druggist has this wax; one ounce is sufficient. Spread on at night like cold cream, washing it off next morning.

For wrinkles, dissolve an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel; bathe the face in this. Immediately every wrinkle is affected, even the deeper lines. Both treatments are remarkable facial rejuvenators.—ADV.

McREYNOLDS IS NOT FOR U. P.-S. P. PLANS TO SEVER

Nevertheless, He Tells Roads' Attorneys to File Them in U. S. Circuit Court in St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The Union Pacific-Southern Pacific Railroads dissolution plans O K'd by former Attorney-General Wickersham, will be submitted to the United States Circuit Court in St. Louis by Attorneys for the railroads without the approval of Attorney-General McReynolds.

Following a conference of the Attorney-General and the railroads' attorneys, McReynolds told his callers he would not approve the plans of dissolution, that in many respects they did not square with his views, but for the railroads to file them with the United States Court without his approval.

According to the Department of Justice the roads have settled their differences with the State of California's Railroad Commission, which, for a time, threatened to tie up the dissolution proceedings.

M'ADOO EXTENDS HIS 'GAG ORDER' ON TREASURY NEWS

Nothing About Government Business to Be Given Out Except Through His Office.

REVERSES PAST POLICY

Secretary to Pass on Desirability of Giving Any Information to the Public.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Secretary McAdoo's "gag order" has been extended from the assistant secretaries of the Treasury, to whom it originally applied, to every bureau and division chief of that extensive department. Nothing whatever concerning Government business there may become known until the Secretary's office has passed upon the desirability of publication.

Surgeon-General Blue of the Public Health Service is forbidden to give out any news as to the progress of the Government's test and investigation of Dr. Friedmann's tuberculosis vaccine, or to warn the public directly of danger of disease or epidemics; the life-saving service is forbidden to make known news of a vessel in distress or of measures taken for the relief of an endangered crew.

The revenue cutter service is forbidden to send public warnings of derelicts in the path of navigation, or give the news of sending one of its ships to a distressed vessel.

All such information now is sent to the Assistant Secretary in charge of the division or bureau in which it originates and then to Secretary McAdoo's office, where it is made public or suppressed.

The Treasury is the only department of the Government in Washington where a "gag" order has been issued. Secretary McAdoo's new policy is a complete reversal of that of former Secretary MacVeagh, who instructed his subordinates to give out news of the public business with accuracy and dispatch, except where it would defeat the ends of justice or in the case of determination of important policies.

SUFFRAGETTES BLOW UP CAR OF MOVING TRAIN

Empty Coach Destroyed, Other Cars Being Filled With Passengers.

LONDON, April 10.—The suffragettes continue their campaign of destruction. An empty passenger car on a train proceeding from Waterloo to Kingston, on the Thames, was destroyed by fire last night. The other cars were filled with passengers. Among the debris cannister such as was used by the women in a recent bomb outrage was found. Just before the train reached Kingston a loud explosion occurred.

Tuesday evening a workman passing through an empty car attached to a loaded passenger train discovered a bomb to which was attached a lighted fuse. All but an inch of the fuse was burned. He extinguished it. The bomb consisted of a cannister record in a box in which were 16-load gun cartridges, pieces of jagged steel bullets and scraps of lead. On the box was painted "More to come. Votes for women. Give us the vote."

A haystack near Nottingham belonging to a widow was destroyed by fire. Suffragette literature was left near by.

MAN BURNED BY GASOLINE IN FIRE AT AUTO STATION

Flare Back From Motor Car Ignites Oil and 2000 Gallons Make Big Blaze.

Harry Henselmeier of 2331 Harris avenue was seriously injured Wednesday night when he attempted to extinguish a fire which burned 2000 gallons of gasoline in tanks at the supply station of the Automobile Gasoline Supply Co., 4610 Washington boulevard. An automobile owned by Jerome J. Schotten, who lives at the Racquet Club, was destroyed. The damage was estimated by firemen at $6000.

The flames from the oil, which burned as it ran from the receptacles, leaped high in the air and attracted hundreds of West End residents. Several thousand gallons of oil in underground tanks was saved by shut-off valves.

Schotten drove up to the station at 8:15 p. m. to have his auto tank filled. Henselmeier was preparing to connect a tube from one of the gasoline tanks when the car back-fired. The gasoline was ignited and the fire spread to other tanks. Henselmeier was burned severely.

Your Grandmother's Remedy for Purifying the Blood

And Renovating the System in the Springtime

Ask for Sulpherb Tablets.

What was grandmother's unexcelled remedy? Haven't you heard of it? Yes, you have! It was sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses. The main trouble with it was its nauseous taste.

A modern method puts the cream of tartar and sulphur into a sugar-coated tablet and mixes them with herbs, roots, etc., making a wonderful tonic blood purifier and system cleanser.

Just try sulpherb tablets (not sulphur tablets), but sulpherb—remember the name—and get the tablets in sealed tubes at 50c per tube.

Grown-up people and children who don't feel well, who are constipated or sluggish, or who have pimples, boils, carbuncles, ulcers and the like, can soon rid the system of these impurities by taking this good old-fashioned remedy in modern form. Their action satisfies or money is refunded by the Prescription Products Company, Dayton, Ohio. A free trial sent to any address. Buy of any well-stocked druggist.

SUES BUETTNER COMPANY FOR $8636.40 SALARY

Former Manager of Piano Department Says He Was Discharged Without Cause.

John Feld, who was a candidate on the Progressive ticket last November for a circuit judgeship, filed suit Wednesday against the J. H. Buettner Furniture and Carpet Co. and Julius H. Buettner for $8636.40.

Feld sets forth that he was employed Jan. 22, 1910, as manager of the piano and music department of the Buettner store for two years, beginning work Jan. 24. He was to receive a salary of $3000 a year, he says, and a commission of [illegible] per cent on all sales over $50,000 in [illegible]rtment.

The petition states that he was discharged without just cause April 1, 1910. He estimates his salary and percentages for the two years at the sum sued for, less $363.60, which he received for his services.

Julius H. Buettner told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he did not care to make any statement regarding Feld's suit.

SOUTHERN TRACTION FRANCHISE CERTAIN OF QUICK REPEAL

Mayor, Democratic House and Republican Council Are as One on This Issue.

One of the first acts of Mayor Kiel's administration will be the repeal of the Southern Traction franchise, according to the statements of Republican and Democratic leaders, and members of the Municipal Assembly to a Post-Dispatch reporter.

Among the popular reasons assigned for the repeal legislation are:

1. The Southern Traction franchise stands as a barrier to the completion of the Municipal Free Bridge.
2. Neither party can escape responsibility for the specific platform pledge to abolish the franchise.
3. The franchise grant for 50 years is a fatal objection.

Both Chairman Schmoll of the Republican City Committee and Fitzsimmons of the Democratic organization are insistent that the party redeem its pledges with respect to the Southern Traction franchise and other important legislation.

House Leader Ready to Push.

Delegate McCarthy of the Sixteenth Ward, the most influential pilot in the Democratic House majority, is ready to push repeal legislation when the actual legislative proceedings begin next Tuesday.

Councilman Julius Haller, who is expected to lead the Republican forces in the upper branch of the Municipal Assembly, said:

"We have threshed out the question of repealing the Southern Traction franchise for more than a year. At the recent election the people voted for candidates who were committed to platforms promising the repeal of that legislation. Twice the Free Bridge bond issue was defeated because the voters objected to the Southern Traction franchise.

"The vital objection to the franchise is that it runs for a period of 50 years, whereas on the Illinois side of the river the Southern Traction Co. has been granted franchises running only 20 years.

"Why should St. Louis show any more liberality to this corporation than the little towns on the other side of the river.

"There is no doubt a great deal of the opposition to the traction company is due to the political unpopularity of its attorney-promoter, Jeptha D. Howe. When the franchise was passed before the free bridge was half finished the Howe-Southern Traction franchise was passed by the Municipal Assembly.

"Now in regard to the so-called repeal of that portion of the franchise giving the Southern Traction Co. the use of the upper deck of the free bridge: I don't believe the Southern Traction Co. has forfeited a single right which it formerly enjoyed.

"The permit issued at the direction of the Public Service Commission and accepted by the Southern Traction Co. simply helped to quiet public resentment. In my judgment the traction company still has its original franchise and can exercise whenever it wants to unless an absolute repeal bill is passed. I think this should be done with the least possible delay."

Councilman Daniel F. Meehan, Democrat, said: "I do not know of a Councilman who will vote against repeal of the Southern Traction franchise. The matter is no longer debatable. We have promised the people we would repeal it and there is no way to go back on the promise."

For a full discussion of the Southern Traction franchise in the news columns, the Post-Dispatch sought the opinions of a number of leading business men.

"My opinion about the contemplated repeal of the Southern Traction Co.'s franchise is summed up in a few words," said John L. Messmore, president of the Merchants' Exchange. "The franchise should be repealed, the municipal bridge should be completed, then new franchises should be granted that will give no company an exclusive right to the bridge, and, by all means, the city should control the loop."

Bridge Is Big Negative Advertisement.

J. W. Booth, president of the Advertising Men's League, said: "The municipal bridge, as it stands, is the biggest negative advertisement the city ever had. If the people want to realize on the money they have already invested in the enterprise they must complete the bridge, and if they say they will not complete the bridge until the Southern Traction Co.'s franchise is repealed the franchise should be repealed. The people are the ones to be satisfied, and not the politicians. The sooner the politicians realize that they must pay attention to the people the better it will be for all concerned. St. Louis has a retail business that can well take care of the needs of people in Western Illinois and in order to get patronage from that territory the cost of transportation must be reduced.

There should be no exclusive privilege granted to any interurban system to cross the bridge. The people lost confidence in the bridge when the Southern Traction franchise was granted. In order to restore confidence the franchise will have to be repealed. In Detroit, where I came from, they have an excellent interurban system. All suburban cars run to the heart of the city. St. Louis should extend the proposed loop so that cars crossing the municipal bridge will run to the center of town."

Must Finish Bridge, Says C. A. Stix.

Charles A. Stix, who was active in connection with the Retail Merchants' Association to have the Municipal Bridge completed, said that regardless of everything else the city should be placed in a position where it can go ahead with the bridge.

"There seems to be some misunderstanding on the part of the general public with regard to the status of the Southern Traction Co.'s franchise," said Mr. Stix. "More publicity should be given the agreement between the city and the company so that the people can thoroughly acquaint themselves with the merits of the case.

You may smile a little when we mention $25 as the price of a good suit; a lot of men think they wouldn't wear a $25 suit; the price seems absurdly low; you're used to $40, $50, $60; you're inclined to "turn your nose up" at ready clothes at $25.

Every time you do that you turn your pocketbook down. You may be able to afford to spend whatever you please for clothes; but it isn't good business to pay $40 or $50 for a suit made to measure when you can buy as good a suit for $25 or $30.

It's wise to pay all you can afford if you are sure of values; the better the garment the more satisfaction for you.

Don't buy clothes that way. Look at our suits at $25, anyway. Our mark in them is a small thing to look for, a big thing to find.

M'ADOO DENIES RUMOR

Mrs. Seth Barton French Is Not His Fiancee, He Declares.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo today denied that he is engaged to Mrs. Seth Barton French of New York and Virginia Hot Springs. He said:

"The report is entirely incorrect. I feel obliged to make this statement in order that Mrs. French may be spared the annoyance such rumors must cause her."

The first report that Secretary McAdoo and Mrs. French were to wed was circulated about a month ago. It started from Hot Springs, Va., where Mrs. French has an estate. After the death of Mrs. French's husband, McAdoo acted as counsel and settled the estate. He has since acted as her adviser.

RICH MRS. BABCOCK, ONCE OF ST. LOUIS, MARRIES CANADIAN

NEW YORK, April 10.—Mrs. Graham E. Babcock, who was Miss Robert Tansey Myers of St. Louis, whose fortune is estimated at $15,000,000, and who is well known in social circles in New York and California, was married yesterday afternoon in Tenafly, N. J., to William Downey of Brockville, Canada, many years her junior. When she first met him he was a clerk in his father's clothing and shoe store in the Canadian town.

The wedding was performed in the home of Mrs. Babcock, Cold Stream Farm, at 5:30 o'clock, in the presence of members of the two families. Every effort was made to avoid publicity. Mrs. Babcock and Downey refused to talk with a reporter for the Post-Dispatch. Comment had been caused when it was announced that Father Quigley of St. Cecilia's Roman Catholic Church, Englewood, would perform the ceremony, instead of the Rev. Dr. A. E. Montgomery, rector of the Episcopal Church, attended by Mrs. Babcock.

Mayor Introduced Them.

Downey was accompanied from Brockville to Tenafly by his sister, Miss Gertrude Downey, and Charles W. MacLean, former Mayor of the Canadian town. It is to MacLean, a millionaire horseman, that Downey was indebted for his introduction to Mrs. Babcock on a yachting trip in the Thousand Islands last summer.

She and the 6-foot, broad-houldered young man fell in love, and Downey became her devoted attendant on her steam yacht, on automobile trips, on railroads in her private car and at frequent house parties at Cold Stream Farm. Their devotion was so apparent that all their friends predicted an early marriage.

Mrs. Babcock inherited most of her fortune from her husband, who died five years ago after 12 years of married life. Her father was G. S. Myers of St. Louis, of the tobacco firm of Liggett & Myers. After her husband's death Mrs. Babcock moved from California to Tenafly to be near her sister, Mrs. Herbert Coppell, whose husband's country estate, Birch Knoll, is opposite Cold Stream Farm.

Honeymoon in Bermuda.

It is said that Mr and Mrs. Downey will spend their honeymoon in Bermuda, then return to New York and next cruise in Mrs. Downey's $85,000 steam yacht Kismet. Last season she occupied one of George C. Boldt's large cottages on Heart Island, opposite Alexandria Bay, and it is reported in Brockville that she has leased the same house for the coming summer, thus bringing the bridegroom near to his home.

Plans, it is said, are under way for the purchase of one of Brockville's historic river-front properties on which Mrs. Downey will build a finer summer home.

Downey is a Roman Catholic and it is said in his home town that an understanding was reached when he and Mrs Babcock became engaged that she would renounce her religious faith and adopt Downey's. She has been a liberal supporter of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Atonement, in Tenafly. Her brother-in-law, Herbert Coppell, is a warden of that church.

MOTHER OF TWO TITANIC WAIFS IS IN POVERTY

Claim for $30,000 for Loss of Husband Filed for Her by Father of Children's Benefactor.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Mrs. Marcelle Navratil, mother of the two little waifs who were rescued from the Titanic by Miss Margaret Hays of this city, has filed a claim for $30,000 against the White Star Line for the loss of her husband. She has been unable to obtain any of the relief fund disbursed in this country or of the $2,500,000 raised abroad, and has been trying to support her children by working as a servant in Nice, France.

Investigation made by F. K. Hays shows that the mother and her children are living in poverty, that the children are left alone all day to play in a squalid room with the broken fragments of toys provided almost a year ago by Miss Hays, while their mother works, and that Louis, the elder child, is ill from want of nourishment.

Hays has taken a deep interest in the case of Mrs. Navratil and her children. He has sent money to her and he filed the formal claim for her yesterday through his attorneys. The legal limit for the filing of such claims expires Monday, the first anniversary of the sinking of the Titanic.

MISSOURI'S WAR-TIME AUDITOR DEAD IN DENVER

Alonzo Thompson, 81, Had Confidence in Spirits' Prediction He Would Live 14 Years More.

DENVER, Colo., April 10.—Alonzo Thompson, 81 years old, millionaire spiritualist and war-time Auditor of Missouri, who firmly believed ghostly advices that he would live until he was 95 years old, died yesterday.

For six weeks his belief supported him in resisting pneumonia and an operation for the removal of a rib. A year ago his declaration that his "guides" told him his wife and son were conspiring to secure his fortune led to Mrs. Thompson's divorce decree. Although three times married, he was planning to follow his "guides" into a fourth matrimonial venture.

Much of Thompson's property is in Nebraska, North Carolina, Tennessee and Texas. He was State Auditor for Missouri from 1863 to 1867. His body will be taken to Belleville, Ill., for burial.

WOMAN BITTEN BY FIGHTING DOGS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Both Hands Injured and City Bacteriologist Will Treat Her —3 Others Bitten.

Police of Dayton Street Station learned Wednesday evening that Mrs. Margaret Carlon, 33 years old, of 3305 Lucas avenue, was in a serious condition due to dog bites on both hands inflicted four days ago. She has been treated by Dr. John M. Rader of 3419 Lucas avenue and Dr. E. Sacks of Washington University Hospital, and Wednesday was told to take treatment from the City Bacteriologist, Dr. D. L. Harris.

Mrs. Carlon told the police that two dogs belonging to her were fighting last Sunday. She separated them and in doing so was bitten on the back of each hand. Mrs. Carlon had the wounds cauterized at once by Dr. Rader. Both dogs will be examined for rabies.

Rudolph Schultz, 34 years old, of 1445 North Ninth street was bitten on the right leg by a dog owned by John Mozolski of 1333 North Eighth street about 6:30 p. m. Wednesday. Schultz was passing the house at 1329 North Eighth street when bitten.

A stray yellow dog bit Fred Willers, 11 years old, 1817A Papin street, on the right leg while the boy was playing on the sidewalk at Eighteenth street and Chouteau avenue.

While Mrs. George Pedro of 2703 Hickory street was passing through the yard of William Wolf, 2705 Hickory street, she was bitten on the right hand by a dog owned by Wolf. The dog's muzzle had been removed that it might eat. Mrs. Pedro did not consider the injury serious.

TROOPS FILLING BELGIAN CITIES TO HANDLE BIG STRIKE

BRUSSELS, Belgium, April 10.—Troops today occupied most of the great industrial centers of Belgium for the general strike ordered for Monday, when 300,000 or 400,000 men will quit work.

In most of the cities large crowds which gathered to watch the arrival of the troops, cheered the marching soldiers.

To aid in preserving order, the Socialist strike leaders have offered to the authorities the services of special constables drawn from the Socialist ranks. The Socialists affirm that any outbreak of violence will delay their cause for half a generation.

The strike is an attack on the present system of plural voting in Belgium, whereby citizens, according to their station in life, have one, two or three votes. The strikers demand that all male citizens shall have one—and only one—vote.

Under the present system every citizen over 25 years of age has one vote. Every citizen over 35 years of age, with one or more children and paying a dollar or more in house tax, has a supplementary vote, as has also a citizen over 25 years old who owns $400 worth of real estate. Two supplementary votes are given to graduates of universities or men who hold office or are ex-officeholders.

DAVIS WANTS $5,000,000 FOR PARKS OF ST. LOUIS

Bond Issue Proposed in Order to Make Improvements and Extend System.

Park Commissioner Dwight F. Davis, in his annual report now being prepared, will recommend a bond issue of $5,000,000 for the purchase of new park property in St. Louis and improvements in the park and playground system. The bond issue would have to be submitted to a vote of the people.

Davis wants to establish four more public parks in the city, construct large athletic fields, and install six more playgrounds, five more swimming pools and five more public baths, costing approximately $3,000,000.

If the bond issue should be authorized, Davis proposes to spend $1,000,000 in improving shelter houses, comfort stations, bridges and in equipping gymnasiums and lockers in all public parks. The remainder of the money would be used for road work and granitoid walks in parks, according to Davis.

GIRLS TO GO TO SCHOOL AT EMPLOYERS' COST

NEW YORK, April 10.—As a step toward efficiency, the managements of four factories, where white dress goods are made, here, will experiment in the education of young girl employes at the public schools.

The idea of giving the girls an elementary education has been broached in the belief that it would help both them and their employers.

Sixteen young girls will be the first to benefit from the plan and not only will their expenses in school be paid, but their wages will go on at the same time. The pupils will not attend school continuously, but only in alternate weeks, eight one week and eight the next, and so on.

PARIS BIRTH RATE FALLS

Now Lowest Since 1861; One Birth to 30 Famjlies.

PARIS, April 10.—The birth rate in the French capital for 1912 was the lowest since 1861, according to a municipal report made public today. There was only one birth for every thirty families.

The infantile death rate was 143 per thousand. Prohibitive rentals are said to have been the chief cause for the decrease in the number of births.

LACLEDE GAS LETS $5,000,000 COKE PLANT CONTRACTS

The Laclede Gas Light Co. let the contracts Thursday for the erection of a $5,000,000 by-product and coke oven recovery plant in Carondelet. The plant is to be erected on a 200-acre tract of land on the Mississippi River, immediately south of the River des Peres.

President C. L. Holman of the gas company, in an interview with a Post-Dispatch reporter, Feb. 10, made public the fact that the company had completed plans for the big project. It is the intention of the company to bring coking coal to St. Louis from a West Virginia mine and convert it into a high grade commercial product. The gas from the coke will be used to supply St. Louis.

Independent of Trust.

The building of the coke oven plant, President Holman said, was made necessary by the recent advances in the price of oils used for the manufacture of water gas, such as is consumed in St. Louis under present conditions.

The coke plant will enable the gas company to manufacture its gas independent of the oil trust, and will result eventually in further reductions in the price of gas to consumers, according to President Holman.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

For Age-Marred Skins and Dull, Streaky Hair
(From American Press.)

Fine lines and that aged condition of the skin are caused by pore-clogging powders and creams. These should be discarded for a spurmax lotion which seems a part of skin when on and is easily made at home at little cost by dissolving 4 ounces spurmax in ½ pint witch hazel (or hot water) then adding 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerin. This face-lotion protects the skin against the ravages of sun and wind, removes tan, freckles, oiliness and other upsets and lends an indefinable charm to the complexion.

An invigorating and pleasing shampoo can easily be made by dissolving a teaspoonful canthrox in a cup of hot water. This creates an abundance of rich, cleansing lather which is a positive benefit to your scalp and hair. After rinsing, your hair will dry quickly and evenly, with a brilliance and silky softness truly charming. Canthrox, which costs little at the druggist's, removes dandruff, makes the scalp healthy and promotes an abundant growth. —ADV.

Dr. Mary Walker Urges U. S. to Bar Militant Pankhurst "Hoodlums"

WASHINGTON, April 10.

DR. MARY WALKER visited the White House and several executive departments yesterday.

At the State Department she demanded that Miss Zelie Emerson, the Michigan suffragist, released from a London jail following her participation in the window-breaking campaign, should be brought to the United States and punished for her conduct abroad.

Incidentally, Dr. Walker declared that "such hoodlums as Mrs. Pankhurst should be forbidden to enter the United States, and that the immigration law, if it does not now prohibit their admission, should be amended by the Democratic Congress so that it would bar them from the United States."

CLAYTON'S DEATH DUE TO ARSENIC IN INJECTION IN VEINS

Treatment Administered by Physician Proves Fatal to Son of Kirkwood Minister.

Coroner Padberg Thursday returned a verdict that Henry Helm Clayton, son of the Rev. John B. Clayton of Kirkwood, came to his death accidentally as the result of arsenic in a medicine injected into his veins by Dr. Meade E. Hagerty of the Century Building.

The remedy was administered in hope of curing a constitutional trouble for which Dr. Hagerty, according to his testimony, had been treating Clayton six weeks. Death followed the second injection of the medicine Tuesday afternoon, and unusual secrecy had been thrown around it.

Specialist Advised Remedy.

Dr. M. M. Klokke, an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist who has an office with Dr. Hagerty, testified that it was he who recommended the treatment after examining Clayton's eyes at Dr. Hagerty's request. This examination, he said, showed that Clayton had an ailment which required treatment with the injection remedy.

Dr. Klokke said that when he entered his office about 4:30 p. m. Tuesday he found Clayton there in a state of collapse. Dr. Hagerty was trying to revive him. Stimulants were administered and Clayton was taken to the Baptist Hospital.

Dr. Hagerty testified that Clayton went to him for treatment about six weeks ago. He gave him an injection of the remedy containing 38 per cent of arsenic. Clayton stayed at a hospital that night, but rapidly recovered from the effects of the injection.

Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Hagerty testified, Clayton came for a second treatment. He received it and left the office saying he was going to a hotel. Half an hour later he returned and complained of feeling ill. He collapsed and was taken to the hospital. He died at 2 a. m. Wednesday and an autopsy revealed the fact that arsenic poisoning caused death.

Dr. Hagerty testified that before beginning the treatment he warned Clayton that in some cases it was fatal.

Clayton's father was present at the inquest. He did not know until just before Dr. Hagerty went on the stand that his son had been taking the treatment which caused his death.

FUNERAL BILL COMPROMISE

Widow to Pay $1165 for Burial of A. S. Bouchard.

By agreement of both sides, Judge Holtcamp Wednesday allowed to the undertaking firm of Johnson & Son, Hutchinson, Kan., $1165 for the burial of A. S. Bouchard, a wealthy St. Louis laudryman, who died at Hutchinson on his way from California to St. Louis.

The undertaking firm presented a bill of $1889.75, of which $1800 was for a casket. Bouchard's widow objected to paying $1800 for a casket and asserted that one for $1000 had been selected.

Two Brothers Wed at Clayton.

At a single ceremony in Clayton Wednesday afternoon, Justice Werremeyer married two Wellston brothers to girls from Missouri towns. Emil Klaus, 23 years old, made Miss Ida Lawson, 19, of Mineral Point, his bride. Carl Klaus, 21, became the husband of Miss Cecelia Semon of Champion City. Adolph Klaus, a third brother, and Miss Emma Saladin witnessed the double wedding.

MUNICIPAL VOTERS' LEAGUE.

"The press and the Municipal Voters' League had a great deal to do with the result," remarked Mayor-elect Kiel, speaking of the election.

The league is trying to supplement the work for discriminating voting on which the Post-Dispatch has been engaged for many years. On the face of the record it made a showing of usefulness in the late city election. Two nominees for city offices whose unfitness it urged were defeated. Of 11 city officers chosen, 10 had the league's indorsement. The six Councilmen chosen were the six it selected on both the Democratic and Republican tickets.

An appearance of inaccuracy or unfairness, perhaps of both, was detected in some of the league's work. We called attention to what we regarded as specific instances of this character. into a he returns evidence public confidence in the municati he, it is a confidence that must be retained It was wh careful, conscientious, nonpartisan reports. If the league has a duty in applying the acid test to candidates, the press has a duty in applying the acid test to both the league and candidates.

In all large cities there is a place for such an organization, by whatever name it is called. No service is more important than one which, with impartial fidelity to facts, it can render to the busy citizen who wishes to vote intelligently.

Woodrow Wilson has the grace to be a simple Democrat and President of the United States at the same time. He has a way of doing great things simple and simply things with dignity. If Theodore Roosevelt had come over to the Capitol to confer with Congress he would have made it either a riot or a farce.

BRIDGES AND BLUFFS.

"A new Bavarian bridge," says an engineering publication, "has but one tower, the cables at the other end being anchored to a bluff." Probably before this Bavarian newspapers have printed accounts of St. Louis' still more remarkable bridge, for which a different kind of bluff serves as the eastern end.

The noise of the pneumatic riveting on St. Louis' queer bridge building has been heard around the world. It is time for something more than a bluff at providing free communication with the Illinois shore.

Negligence of the states has justified the extension of the Federal authority to many offenses. Why, however, were the United States courts burdened with the punishment of thefts from freight cars? Are the states no longer equal to the trial of larceny cases?

LET ST. LOUISANS SEE IT.

No art exhibition of recent years has created more interest than the International Exhibition of Modern Painting and Sculpture, part of which is now in Chicago. It was brought together by the Association of American Painters and Sculptors, an organization embracing the secessionists and younger artists who are outside the pale of the academies.

Naturally the exhibition contains works of the latest secessionist schools, including the post impressionists, cubists and futurists. Some of the leaders of these schools in Germany, France and Italy are represented. Several American modernists have contributed work.

In New York the exhibition created widespread discussion, the echoes of which are still reverberating in newspapers and periodicals. Chicago's interest is rather more than less. It is agreed that, while there are wide differences of opinion concerning the value of the work of the latest schools, there is general agreement that it is interesting and instructive.

The diminished exhibition goes from Chicago to Boston, but St. Louis is not on the list of exhibition cities. Why not? Surely the St. Louis public is entitled to a glimpse of the latest novelties in fine arts. We should become acquainted with the futurist painters before they become past-painters. It may take some money and energy, but the Art Museum Board should be willing to supply both.

The exhibition would entertain the St. Louis people and stimulate public interest in art. Let us have it.

PRESIDENTIAL DIGNITY.

It is difficult to grasp the logic of those who, approving the President's personal delivery of his message in the House of Representatives, criticise his going to the President's room at the capitol to confer with Senators and Representatives, on the ground that by doing this he lowers his official dignity and subjects himself to rebuff and insult by members of Congress.

Surely a President can go to the Capitol of the country of which he is chief executive without losing his dignity or subjecting himself to insult. Surely he can occupy the room set aside for him in the Capitol without being flouted by members of Congress. Having the constitutional power of recommendation and veto the President is an important factor in legislation. He must be consulted by legislators if they would do effective, work, just as he must consult legislators if he is to accomplish the things he recommends. There is rather more reason in his going to his office in the Capitol to confer with Congressmen than in his summoning Congressmen to the White House. It is more Democratic. It is more businesslike. It is more sensible.

Let us get rid of the notion that the President must be hedged about with ceremonial, rigid rules of etiquette and stiff conventionality. Let us break the crust of traditional formality which has long been thickening about the President until he is in danger of becoming merely an over-awing office, instead of a man in an office. No divinity should hedge him about.

The President's dignity can be lowered only by what he says and does; not by the time, the place or the mode of his saying and doing. He alone by his conduct and utterances can discredit his office and invite rebuff.

We take it that President Wilson conferred with Senators and Representatives in his office at the Capitol because he thought he could in that way more efficiently contribute to the success of tariff reform. If that is so he deserves credit and not criticism. It is evidence of his earnest desire to serve the people. He intends to be a worker not a futile figurehead.

There was never such a flood of oratory as the Drainage Congress looses.

GOETHALS AS FLOOD MASTER.

Never before have the problems to be discussed by the National Drainage Congress meeting here today occupied so important a place in the minds of the people. They divide with fiscal problems the anxious attention of Congress. To their solution the best effort of President Wilson's administration will be early devoted.

The suggestion that a department of Cabinet rank shall be created to deal directly with the subject by no means magnifies the importance of the work. Long-continued appeals attributed largely to sectional interest have been disregarded in the past, but the waters themselves, carrying desolation even to great areas supposed to be immune from their havoc, have twice within a twelvemonth voiced their own irresistible argument as to the urgency and national character of the peril.

One line along which the drainage congress may make its influence felt is in opposing a merely opportunist and provisional disposition of the difficult question. The time is most favorable for improvements that will assure flood control for all time. The end of the Panama task will relieve a pressure on national finance and release the greatest American experts in hydraulics. The assignment, either as head of the proposed new department or in some other capacity, of Col. Goethals to the work is now under consideration at the White House. To entrust it to him as national floodmaster would be a guarantee of economical, practical, efficient, permanent work, exemplifying the highest engineering skill.

The floods must be mastered or they will master a great and fertile extent of the country.

With "undivided profits" reported at $5,035,470, the United Railways might at least make such a division of future profits with the public as to operate a little more rolling stock.

DEMOCRACY IN THE HOUSE GALLERY.

Mrs. Marshall, the Vice-President's wife, had difficulty squeezing into the packed House gallery to hear Wilson's message. Some guests who had come with her had to remain outside. Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce could barely elbow their way in. Ambassador and Madame Jusserand of France, came near being barred from entering at all. One Minister and the first Secretary of a dignified Embassy and a lot of other important personages, not to mention mere plutocrats, were refused admittance altogether.

The trouble was that the place was packed with plain people who got there first. First come first served is the rule in a democracy, and titles and dignities have no precedence over John Smith and his wife. To our mind it was a magnificent spectacle—the plain folks occupying the seats and most of the standing room beside.

The free and unterrified plain folks are going to occupy the galleries of both House and the Senate during all of the session. It is a people's session, and we look to see democracy hold the floors and the rostrum as well.

The harder "Cap" Troll and the Republican machine fall out, the greater is the increase in hope for the success of a Republican municipal administration.

THE MICHIGAN SUFFRAGE VOTE.

The Bull Moose plurality in Michigan last fall was 62,340. If as many Moosers had voted their platform as voted their ticket, woman suffrage would have been adopted by a majority at least equal to this plurality. However, a large percentage of them bolted their suffrage pledge. Supporters of all parties combined gave the amendment about 700 less than a majority.

Resubmitted this week, the amendment received less votes, showing that the one national party which has declared for votes for women neglected in November an opportunity for putting its platform into effect that is not likely soon to be duplicated. Michigan Progressive strength shrunk to poor proportions. The suffrage amendment was defeated by thousands of votes.

Having been submitted by two successive Legislatures and voted on twice within five months by the people, another referendum is not expected there at an early date. Michigan has rejected the honor of being the tenth equal suffrage State. Enough states are aspirants for the honor to make a spirited competition. Montana, Nevada, North Dakota and South Dakota will vote in 1914. Alaska begins its territorial existence with votes for women. The New York and New Jersey Legislatures have passed the amendment, but in each state it must pass another Legislature before going to the people.

Nebraska and Ohio will seek submission under the initiative. Legislatures still in session have a chance to act before the record of suffrage progress is made up for the year 1913.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Minimum Wage Problem.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The minimum wage or price, it is said, is an amount fixed by law and which the employer dare not depress. Well and good.

But if the purchasing power of $5 a day, we will say, fetches at one time the minimum of what the worker needs and prices jump up, say, to make the point clear, 100 per cent, can that $5 fetch the same minimum amount of necessaries? On the other hand, is a minimum wage that is expressed in dollars and cents a guarantee against a standard of living that is below the standard that existed when the minimum was established by law? "Would not such a law rather legalize the depressing of the workers' standard of living and deprive them of the civic status to strike for conditions above the statutorily established dollar and cents minimum?"

And, lastly. Paid in the terms of money, the employer conceals, or blurs, under wages, the fact that the working class pays itself; that what it receives is but a portion of the goods that it produces; that the capitalist class keeps the lion's share of the fruit of labor's toil. A goodly portion of the cat would be uncovered to the workers' eyes if the minimum wage were to specify the minimum amount of goods the worker shall receive.

Free Employment Agency Little Known.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In a recent Post-Dispatch a constant reader wishes to know "why all the good ads in the morning papers are in the hands of employment agencies." That is easily answered. The employment agencies advertise their business through the columns of the papers, agreeing to furnish help to anyone that wishes it free of charge. "Just phone your want."

But here, constant reader, read this: There is a free employment agency, owned, controlled and every expense paid by the State of Missouri. Why are not these ads phoned to it, so that the man who has not got the money to pay the private agencies can go there and get a position free of any expense? The reason is very plain. It is a political office, a political man holding the same by an appointment. His salary is appropriated by the Legislature and never forgotten.

But this free employment bureau run by the State of Missouri for the benefit of the poor and unemployed seldom has the poorest kind of positions to offer, and often "nothing at all," as I was told myself about a week ago. I found plenty of openings at other agencies for those who had the money to pay for them. But why "nothing at all" at the free one controlled by the State? Because the generous Legislature could set aside money to pay an agent a good salary and to furnish an office for said agent. But they would not set aside one dollar to advertise the free office. Therefore, the people of St. Louis or the State do not know of its existence. Even business men inside of two blocks of this free employment office could not direct me to it when I stepped into a real estate office and inquired for its location.

GENE BELT.

(The recent Legislature appropriated $4000 extra for the State Labor Bureau, and the Post-Dispatch suggested that this be used for the purpose of making the free employment bureaus more efficient by enabling them to compete in various ways with the private employment agencies.—Ed. P.-D.)

An Obstructive Fence.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The concrete fence in the rear of the Catlin tract shuts off the entire section of the Washington Heights district between De Baliviere avenue and Skinker road. In order for people who live, say, at 5800 to get to the park, it is necessary for them either to go all the way to De Baliviere avenue in a roundabout way on account of the street railway trestle, which makes it a matter of three or four blocks of very bad walking, or go all the way to Skinker road, another four blocks walk. As most of the people built in this neighborhood to be near the park and have easy access to it, it is hardly fair or right that they should be shut off from it on account of a private fence. No doubt it is the intention of the city authorities to condemn property later on and cut streets into the park, but in the meantime why would it not be a good idea to cut one or two openings into this fence where most needed, protected by turnstiles, and in this simple but effective way give access to the park and especially for the children of this neighborhood.

A RESIDENT IN THIS DISTRICT.

A Woman Condemns Pankhurst Methods.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Apropos of the report of the terrible outrages perpetrated by the British suffragettes, it is surprising that not one of the members of the Equal Suffrage Congress (lately held in this city) had the grace to propose a vote of condemnation of the senseless outrages following the arrest of the posing Pankhurst. I see the press reports that many were disappointed and expressed regret that Pankhurst was not mentioned. It speaks volumes for the intelligence, poise and spirit of fairmindedness of the majority that such a theme was not injected, to bring discord in an otherwise dignified meeting.

By what process of reasoning can these British suffragettes hope to attain their ends by breaking the windows of innocent shopkeepers, destroying the mail of their neighbors and causing untold loss and suffering to the innocent bystander? Are their brains so atrophied with fanaticism that they cannot realize that they are antagonizing their friends and alienating those who would have been their champions? No one can estimate the harm that these female hooligans have done the cause of suffragism.

Imagine an intelligent man stooping to such clap trap. A man who attempted such a stunt would be a national laughing stock or a candidate for the foolish house. I believe in equal rights; I also believe in equal responsibility. I believe in that womanliness and dignity that commands respect. I believe in that intelligent appeal to reason which, blended with the charm of true womanhood and femininity, is never ignored by our American manhood.

Socialist Tactics.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The political fight is over, and the votes counted. Now is the time for the dues-paying members of the Socialist party to stop and do some serious thinking. If results count, the sooner the rank and file start their spring cleaning the sooner they will accomplish something. Half cleaning won't get anywhere; they will have to cut all the strings from an industrial class paper and have their headquarters in the center of the city. Issue a Socialist paper and fight capital instead of one class of labor fighting another class of labor; permit no man to hold office that is attached to any class paper. To permit anyone to hold office for personal reasons won't get anywhere. Results are what count all the time. A Socialist for 15 years.

QUANTRAINS OF A DUCKSHOOTER.

THEY say a new bag limit law has passed,
And this Spring's massacres will be the last.
One can't come home with more than fifteen birds
Except the calaboose shall hold him fast.

Some men are angry, and some men are glad,
But all in all, I think, it's not so bad.
I've seen the time full oft when fifteen birds
Were fifteen times the luck that I have had.

It looks like fifty when the larks awake
And the breath of morning breathes across the lake,
But later on, as I have often found,
It looks like chicken or a tender steak.

I never yet have killed the limit quite,
And what the State could make it so I might
I cannot say, though ten birds in a day
And five the next may be nearly right.

I am not one of those grim killers bent
Upon destruction till the day is spent.
More do I care about the great world
And all the wonders that the gods invent.

To feel the gladness of the earth in Spring
And see the redbird with his flaming wing—
These are the things that make the trip worth while;
The sport of shooting is a minor thing.

I dare say—what? Here comes the limit now!
We'll have one more red session, anyhow.
Ba-room-boom-boom-boom! Missed them clean!
How many curses, prithee, does the law allow?

ITALY'S TELEPHONE GIRLS.

From Le Cri de Paris.

Last year the Italian Government gave official notice to its female employes in the telephonic service that they should not marry under the age of 28 years. Recently a new order has been announced that no married woman need solicit admission into the service, as she will be refused. More than this, bachelor girls previously admitted must obligate themselves in writing not to take a husband. Those who do not submit to this requirement will be summarily dismissed. This barbarous decree has naturally provoked a number of meetings. Madame Teresa, the Italian advocate, has delivered a virulent discourse. "The administration," she said, "has enacted divorce between labor and love, a barbarous decree. Woman, on the contrary, can have but one device, 'Love and Labor.'"

MALE READERS OF POETRY.

From the London Chronicle.

A public librarian recently gave me evidence that man's regard for poetry is greater than woman's. Many pupil teachers and other students frequent his library and come in quest of books to help them in the study of literature.

He finds that when set to study a poet the male student usually borrows that poet's works to read for himself, but the female says: "Oh, I don't want to wade through all that; give me a book that will summarize his ideas and tell me what I ought to think about him." And the usual way is to give the girl a book that tells her what a man thinks she ought to think about poetry.

"Efficiency" the Fetish Now.

From the Indianapolis News.

We used to hear a good deal of old-fashioned Democratic and old-fashioned Republican administrations. But we have outgrown all that. What the people want today is efficiency, what they demand is progress. The public service is no longer looked on as a refuge for incompetents. It belongs to the people and is maintained and paid for by them. We do not believe that it is even politically possible to set the standard too high.

The OfficeSeekers.

From the Philadelphia Record.

When Abraham Lincoln had the smallpox he remarked grimly that he at last had something that he could give everybody. Woodrow Wilson is having an experience with office-seekers that enables him to appreciate his great predecessor's humor, but he is determined not to acquire anything that could so easily be imparted to others, and everybody in the White House has been vaccinated.

'Tis said that patients who received Friedmann's injection, "move joints they never thought they could." Why not put these self-same adults on the New York police force?

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

BEAUTY CULTURE.

T. F.—Flesh on cheeks may be reduced by massage—hard, upward stroke, beginning at the corners of the mouth and going back to the hair. Avoid sugar and starchy foods.

EDITH.—Buttermilk will take off freckles quicker than a lotion costing dollars. Wash the face in it several time a day, letting it dry on. If to this wash is added the juice of the raw cucumber, just thick slices of the peel rubbed on the face, arms, hands and neck every night and left to dry, the skin is much improved.

HAZEL.—One beauty writer says: To make neck plump, rub in cocoa butter with long, circular motion and practice deep breathing. Another says: Long continued use of cocoa butter yellows the skin. For chest development and filling out hollows in the neck take deep breathing exercises in the open air and warm baths with gentle massage.

BETTY.—Wrinkles come from emotion, not from age. Every time you are angry you make a new line in your forehead. Every time you force a smile you draw a wrinkle down the side of your mouth. Every time you are worried you lay the foundation for a new crow's foot. All the sticking plaster and massage in the world is as naught against the evil of too many emotions. Always massage in a contrary direction. If the lines run from temple to temple, rub up and down; if between the brows, press toward the temples. Constant, regular use of this skin food has been recommended: Melt half an ounce of white wax and the same of spermacetti, an ounce each of cocoanut oil and lanolin and two of oil of sweet almonds in a porcelain kettle. Take from the fire and while cooking beat in 10 drops of tincture of benzoin and an ounce of orange flower water. It should make a smooth cream. Wash the face well with a good toilet soap and warm water, wipe dry and apply the cream freely, especially at night.

DATES.

KLIEMANN.—Feb. 29, '88, Wednesday.

W. W. B.—Wilson's term expires March 4, 1917; Major's Jan. 8, 1917; Kiel's successor will be elected April 3, 1917.

LAW POINTS.

NORMAN.—No poll tax in St. Louis. Under our antiquated laws an assessor may tax all your personal property, even to your pantaloons.

PAUL.—West side fence does not belong to people next door, unless there was an agreement to that effect at the time it was built. Keep out of neighbor's yard.

LADY READER.—As an interlocutory decree of divorce is not final, we do not see how a marriage in Missouri would be lawful for a person granted such a decree in California.

R. J. B.—No law specifically says that passenger shall deposit fare in cash boxes; but fares must be paid, and we doubt whether any court would decide against the cash-box method of collection.

ETHEL.—Referendum means that certain measures, after being passed by the Legislature, must be submitted to a popular vote before becoming law; initiative means that the people may initiate, frame and by popular vote pass a law without reference to the Legislature; recall means that the people may by popular vote recall or remove from office a person who has been regularly elected for a stated term. Erdman act is for arbitration in controversies between common carriers and their employes.

SWON.—Different methods are used for making tablets of different ingredients. We haven't space to answer in full. Visit a manufactory.

QUIZ.—President emeritus is a president retired from active service (as on account of age or infirmity) but retained in an honorary position.

VERNER.—Hoyle says checker board should be placed with double white squares in lower right-hand corner. (Prophylactic, preventive of disease.)

F. F. L.—To buy cheapest and best for restaurant, you must be a born merchant and know your business thoroughly. Knowledge and experience spell success in every line.

A. M. P.—It is the experience of those who have sought to make lodge attendance more regular that it cannot be done unless the members themselves take more interest in the meetings.

SHAREHOLDER.—Many a man investing in a "mine" has never received any dividends and has lost all the money he paid. Before there is any investment there should always be thorough investigation.

GOULD.—In New York there is some such an association—superintendents and foremen of printing establishments, who meet for social and business reasons. We know of no such an organization in St. Louis.

R. B.—Stud and lath and plaster as stone and brick walls to prevent dampness. Remove soft bricks from walls. If dampness comes from below, put a layer of glass or slate in the wall. Have perfect ventilation always.

FAIR-MINDED CATHOLIC.—We do not know the religion of all the nominees on the various tickets nominated in the primaries. Why didn't you ask them while they were running? A voter need not hesitate to ask a nominee questions.

The Junior League of the St. Louis Children's Hospital is organized under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harry H. Langenberg of 49 Westmoreland place.

GIBBONS.—An English philanthropist, who died last year and left $228,000 to found a laboratory for the study of eugenics, which he defined as "study of the agencies under human control, which may improve or impair the racial faculties of future generations physically and mentally." This includes the study of everything that may tend to help or hurt the human race.

IRELAND.—A British Vice-Consul says: In Ireland, tenants or peasants can become sole owners of land by purchase, but there is no law as far as I know that compels a landlord to sell. In Ireland, if a landlord agrees to sell, the price is fixed by arbitration, and after this is done the landlord must abide by the result. The Government will advance the purchase money, giving 49 years for repayment.

The Post-Dispatch Daily Short Story

A Tangled Code

By S. E. Kiser.

FARNHAM sat looking blankly at the wall, too busy with his thoughts to notice that Miss Wallis was waiting to begin the day's work by taking his dictation. She was young and much too pretty to be working in a Chicago business office where the light was poor and the hours were long. There was about her an air of feminine timidity that was hardly compatible with her present surroundings.

Turning toward her, at length, Farnham said:

"I forgot that I wanted you. I've just received word that I must go to Danville. I don't know exactly when I shall be back. I shall have to leave you in charge here. We can't close the office."

"I am very sorry," she answered.

"Thank you. I'll telegraph the New York office, and if anything important comes up, you can get me on the long distance. I don't think of anything, though, that can't be put off for a while. All you'll have to do is to stay here and explain to people who may come in to see me that I've been called out of town, but will be back in a few days. Give them circulars, get their names and addresses, and try to find out what they want."

Having dictated a few letters of pressing importance, Farnham telegraphed an explanation to Rawlinson, the head of the Columbian Investment Co., in New York, and half an hour later Gertrude Wallis found herself in charge of the Chicago branch. As he was hastily leaving, Farnham informed her that she would find in the upper righthand pigeonhole of his desk the company's code book, which was to be used in case she had occasion to telegraph to Rawlinson.

In his haste or perhaps it was on account of his troubled state of mind—the manager forgot that the code book in the upper right-hand pigeon hole was an old one which he had used when he was in the grain brokerage business, and that the one which he meant to have the girl use was hidden away in a tin box in one of the drawers of the desk.

On the day after Farnham's departure a heavy storm—the papers referred to it as a cyclone—swept through the country between Chicago and Danville, wrecking buildings and twisting wires into a jumbled mass that made communication except by mail impossible. It was while matters were in this condition that Rawlinson wired from New York to Miss Wallis:

There hung above Farnham's desk a portrait of Rawlinson, and this would have apprised Miss Wallis of the fact that he was a fine-looking man, still rather under middle age, if she had never seen him. But she had seen him. He had been in the Chicago office several times during the past year, and he had always been very courteous to her. From occasional remarks dropped by Farnham, she had gathered that the head of the company was a bachelor. After copying Rawlinson's telegram, she forwarded it by mail. Then she got the code book out of the upper right-hand pigeon hole, according to Farnham's instructions, and began the work of preparing a reply.

It was an unfamiliar and somewhat tedious task; but at last she found the word "lonesome," which in the cipher meant: "Have sent particulars by mail." So it happened that Rawlinson, sitting in his New York office, received this message from Chicago:

"All Southern wires down. Lonesome. GERTRUDE WALLIS."

He read the words several times, and then laid the telegram aside, intending to take up other matters; but a moment later he picked it up again.

"Lonesome?" he said, half aloud, to himself.

Finally he returned to his desk, found a telegraph blank and wrote: "Lonesome here, too. Coincidence."

It did not take Miss Wallis long, after she had signed her name in the messenger boy's book, to find the word "coincidence." In her code book it meant: "There is no reason why we should not proceed at once."

"Proceed at once?" she mused. "What does Mr. Rawlinson mean? What is there to proceed about?"

The more she studied the matter, the more mystified she became. In order to avoid any possibility of going wrong, she telegraphed to Rawlinson again, as follows:

"Don't understand coincidence. Is it important? Hope I have made no mistake."

In a surprisingly short time she received this answer:

"Quite important. You are not mistaken. Frankness delightful."

After she had tried for about the eighth time to translate his message with the aid of the code in her possession, she began to cry. She found that "frankness" according to the book stood for "Disregard new venture," while "delightful" meant "Sell five thousand July." She could not guess where she might get five thousand July to sell, or who would want to buy five thousand July, or what it would be worth if she had it.

It was nearly noon when he received her third wire, which read:

"Disregard former message if anything in it concerning new venture, provided not already gone too far. Let me know at once. Terribly anxious."

Rawlinson rumpled his hair and permitted several deep lines to spoil the smoothness of his brow. After repeated attempts, he evolved this answer:

"Venture not entirely new. Others have preceded us. Think we have gone too far to turn back now, dearest. Am writing."

When she had read this, Miss Wallis permitted the sheet of paper to fall from her fingers, and the desk before her seemed to rise and begin to float away.

Her last hope fled. There could be no further doubt that she had made some terrible blunder. She half expected to hear things crashing around her. While she sat wondering how long it would be before she could know the extent of the calamity, another message was delivered to her. She got the envelope open somehow, and read:

"Am adjusting matters so can come to Chicago soon. Answer if happiness reciprocated."

It was time to close the office for the night when Rawlinson received her reply, which he read and then read again. It ran thus:

"Explain 'Happiness reciprocated.' Will wait not in my book."

As a matter of fact, Miss Wallis had written:

"Explain. 'Happiness reciprocated.' Will wait. Not in my book."

But telegrams sometimes undergo curious changes in transmission, and Rawlinson had no means of knowing that the one he received meant something wholly different from that which Miss Wallis had intended to send. As it was he decided that she wished him to understand that in her bright lexicon there was no such word as wait. He was a man who could decide quickly. Summoning McDermid, his assistant, he said:

"I shall have to be away for three or four days. You can reach me at the Chicago office if anything important comes up."

Then to Gertrude Wallis, he wired: "Am starting at once."

He reached Chicago late in the following afternoon. Thousands of people were tumbling out of the great office buildings and hurrying toward car lines and railway stations, but William Rawlinson heeded them not. Fearing that Miss Wallis might have started for home, he lost no time in making his way to the office of the Columbian Investment Co. He was conscious of a sudden pang when the girl, pale, and evidently the victim of some great trouble, faced him in the manager's office.

"Well," he said, after they had stood silently gazing at each other for a moment. "You see, I have come as quickly as possible."

"I hope," she answered, with a fearfulness that he did not understand, "it is not terribly serious—nothing which you cannot easily set right?"

"If it were not serious, I should hardly be here, should I?"

"I—I don't know—I'm so sorry."

He looked at her curiously for a moment, and then said, with a smile:

"Come, little girl, let us cast ceremony to the winds. You haven't even shaken hands with me."

"But the 5000 July?" she answered. "Is that what is causing the trouble?"

"Five thousand July what?"

"I don't know; I couldn't get you to tell me. Every answer you sent seemed to make it worse."

There was something in her look which caused him to draw from his pocket the messages he had received, and to spread them out on the flat office table.

"It is evident," he said, "that there has been a misunderstanding of some kind between us. Let us try to straighten it out."

Half an hour later, when they were preparing to leave the office, she said:

"I shall always keep that old code book as my dearest treasure."

"No," he replied, "we will keep it as our dearest treasure."

Alabama's Dower.

IN Mississippi no dower exists, and in that State either husband or wife may sell his or her lands without the consent of the other. However, when a resident of Mississippi sells any land he may own across the line in Alabama, he must obtain his wife's signature to the deed in order to release her dower; yet by a peculiar provision of the Alabama law this man's wife, living in Mississippi, can sell her Alabama land without getting her husband to sign the deed, although her married sister, who lives in Alabama, must get her husband to sign her deed when she sells her Alabama land. In other words, the Alabama law has conferred upon her own married women less capacity to contract than she has conferred upon the married women residing in other states.

How I Serve Meals Without Work

A dumbwaiter table, an English "Susan" and an electric fireless cooker enable a woman to immediately serve a seven-course dinner, although she does not get home from a lecture until her guests arrive, at 7 p. m.

MRS. FRANK AMBLER PATTISON, a popular lecturer on household economics and mistress of an ideal home at Colonia, N. J., has been successful in her efforts to dispense with drudgery, long hours and unpleasant conditions surrounding household tasks.

To produce this result she has devised many labor-saving methods and originated a dinner scheme by means of which a hostess may return simultaneously with the arrival of her guests and, without assistance from servants in the dining room, serve dinner promptly.

"The secret of the whole thing is merely a modern method of management," says this creative thinker on the servant problem. "Women everywhere acknowledge that the 'servant' is going. The progressive thing to do is to help her to go.

"But, while abolishing the servant, the hostess must devise other means of getting the following services performed: The invention of devices that would do the work of a butler; the serving of guests so that none of them will have to rise or pass anything throughout the meal; the serving of the conventional number of courses in the usual order; the preservation of the beauty of the table.

"To do all this I decided upon an adaptation of the English breakfast 'Susan,' built in silver on a much larger scale, which serves very effectively as a centerpiece and brings everything readily to hand.

"The next step was an adaptation of the original dumb-walter table so widely used 200 years ago but now so rare as to be almost a classic. It consists of a series of revolving disks, the one at the bottom quite large and the others diminishing in size toward the top.

"When entertaining a large number of guests a small serving table is placed at the host's right hand, from which the carving is done. The dumb-waiter should stand a trifle back and at the left of the hostess.

"The dinner, carefully prepared by modern methods, is placed in the electric cooker and the clock set when the actual cooking shall automatically cease. After that period the dinner will remain hot for hours without damage.

"The day of this particular dinner party I arranged the tables before leaving the house. I ascended the lecture platform at the hour when I had expected to be at home. I arrived at home at 7 o'clock, the time previously set for the arrival of our guests. The dinner was in the electric cooker. It had been ready and waiting there for two hours.

"Flowers occupied the top of the silver revolving centerpiece on the table. Small dishes of flowers were placed between each service plate. The grapefruit, already on the tables when the guests took their places, was served on small paper plates over which were paper doileys. These were on each service plate. At the left of each plate were the small covered bouillon dishes on metal standards.

"Dinner was served. Here is the menu:

Appetizer.
(Served in the drawing-room.)
Grapefruit. Bouillon.
(Already on the table.)
Potatoes. Spinach. Creamed Onions.
Boned Turkey. Cranberry Sauce.
Fruit Salad.
Chocolate Pudding.
Coffee. Bonbons. Olives. Nuts.

"On the lower disk of the dumb waiter table were two large, attractive china bowls, the one to be used as a receptacle for the grapefruit and the other for the silver to be noiselessly deposited in as it was removed from the table after each course. The bouillon dishes, recovered, remained on the table without detracting from its appearance.

"As the vegetables were removed from the cooker they were placed on the second disk. The third already held the salad and small plates as well as the dessert. On the upper disc were the bonbons and coffee. The roast was, of course, placed on the small table at the right of the host.

"Having finished the grapefruit a guest merely placed the small plate on the revolving centerpiece. The slightest touch was all that was necessary to bring it around before me. It was a simple matter to lift it back to the lower disk of the dumb-waiter and, by a deft movement, slip the grapefruit into the large bowl, place the spoon in the other receptacle and the plates in a small pile between the two. A gentle touch to the disk and it noiselessly revolved, carrying all to the background.

"As the roast was carved the service plates were placed on the revolving centerpiece and carried to each guest, later they were removed in the same manner. The vegetable dishes were easily set from the dumb-waiter to the centerpiece and turned to each guest as desired. The salad and the dessert were served as was the meat course. There was no delay, no interruption.

"When dinner was over the dumb-waiter was given sufficient impetus to send it well back from the table and, upon rising, a screen was placed around it.

"The dining room was in order for the evening."

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL.

By HELEN ROWLAND.

IF a man could understand women, life would be robbed of most of its excitement. At present, three-quarters of the average man's existence is spent in wondering what a woman is going to do next.

When a husband comes home with a bunch of flowers or a box of candy, somehow his wife always reserves her enthusiasm until she discovers whether he is apologizing for something he has done or preparing the way for something he is going to do.

Why is it that when a nice young man confesses to you that he is married he always acts so apologetic about it? Marriage may sometimes be a misfortune, but it is really no disgrace.

Alas, it is no use trying to get a woman to take an interest in a little thing like mental science, socialism or the improvement of the race until she has had at least one husband!

FIVE ATTEMPTS TO BURN IOWA Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

Structure Which Cost $100,000 Houses 22 Men; Incendiary Efforts Began 3 Weeks Ago.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Io., April 10.—Five attempts within three weeks, the last one late last night, have been made to burn the $100,000 Y. M. C. A. Building here, but all of them have been thwarted without injury to the structure.

It houses the local camp of the Grand Army of the Republic and 22 men have sleeping quarters on the upper floors.

The watchman, when making his rounds just before midnight, found that the building was on fire and extinguished the flames. Sunday night it was found that one of the gas jets in the lodge room had been lighted and turned low, and that all of the others had been opened.

The three other attempts to destroy the building were equally well planned and failed only because of their timely discovery.

POWERFUL LOBBY WORKING AGAINST TARIFF PROGRAM

Southern Cotton Manufacturers Say Democratic Bill Will Close Plants.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—One of the greatest lobbies ever seen in Washington is gathering here to protest against the passage of the Democratic tariff bill in its present form.

The American Cotton Manufacturers' Association started the fight Tuesday by protesting against the proposed cotton schedule. Lewis W. Parker of Greenville, S. C., who is known as a low tariff man, said today many Southern cotton mills would have to shut down if the House bill becomes a law. W. A. Erwin, president of the association, told Democratic Congressmen that such a schedule would cripple the industry in the South. Every Southern Congressman that represents a cotton manufacturing district has been approached and asked to use his influence to change the cotton schedule in caucus.

While the cotton mill men of the Southern States are bombarding their Congressmen, Western business men are demanding a square deal for sugar, wool and other Western products.

"If the Democratic tariff bill as it now stands goes through the House and Senate and is signed by the President, the beet sugar industry will be killed," said F. S. Lusk, a banker of Missoula, Mont. "Capital is waiting to go to our State to build beet sugar factories, but will not move until it sees what is going to be done here."

Lusk is one of the many business men who have talked with Western Democratic Congressmen within the last few days about the "dangers of a low tariff."

"Men who have studied the cotton schedule," said E. C. Hutchinson of North Carolina, "believe that it will close many mills in the South if it becomes a law."

The lumber men have not shown their hand yet. Some of the big dealers of the South and West are expected here today.

Former Senator M. J. Foster of Louisiana is the leading lobbyist for the sugar people. He is supported by Henry T. Oxnard, a beet sugar expert.

Those who oppose the House bill are not meeting with encouragement and they have not frightened any Congressmen. Promises of "careful consideration" is all any of them have received. The cotton manufacturers are contemplating making a direct appeal to the President before they leave the capital.

"After studying the situation carefully for two days," said a prominent official of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, "some of us have about concluded that we cannot do anything with the Senate and would better try the President. There is no hope in the House."

VON HOFFMAN SHOWS FRIEDMANN CONTRACT

Purported Instrument Provides Sale of American Rights to Tuberculosis Remedy.

After directing his attorney in New York Wednesday to prepare an injunction suit against Dr. Friederich Franz Friedmann to restrain him from putting his tuberculosis cure on sale in the United States, Albert von Hoffman made public a purported contract with Dr. Friedmann, under the terms of which he was to pay the Berlin physician $1,000,000 for the absolute control of the cure in this country. The contract, dated at Berlin, Oct. 24, 1912, follows:

"As Dr. F. F. Friedmann has invented a new cure for tuberculosis and applied for patents in United States for same, and Albert von Hoffmann, a citizen of the United States, desires to acquire the rights and privileges of this patent. Mr. von Hoffmann will pay, 30 days after such discovery is recognized by the Medical Congress of Berlin and Vienna as an absolute cure for tuberculosis, the sum of $100,000, and 60 days thereafter Mr. von Hoffmann agrees to pay the sum of $900,000. Accepted, Dr. F. F. Friedmann."

Von Hoffmann's story of his connection with Friedmann already has been told in the Post-Dispatch.

ENGLISH INCOME TAX COLLECTION CITED AS MODEL

Consul Says Evasions Are Few and System Causes Little Trouble to Payer.

EMPLOYERS AS COLLECTOR

Charge Is Deducted From the Wages of Many, Before Payment for Services.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Courtenay Walter Bennett, British Consul-General in New York, has given a description of the workings of the British income tax, prefacing it with the statement that, in his opinion, this is the fairest form of taxation that can be devised.

"Originally the British income tax was a war measure," he said today. "It was said that after the Crimean war it would be done away with, but we still have it.

"Great Britain's method of collection is extremely simple and not at all troublesome to the taxpayer. In the first place the salary of every Government official and employe whose salary is in excess of the income tax minimum £160, is paid after the Government has deducted the income tax. Here there is not the slightest chance for evasion.

"The income tax on stocks and dividends is deducted by the company or corporation before the dividends are paid.

Professional Men on Honor.

"In the case of a professional man the income is returned to the department largely on honor. He makes an annual statement, which is usually accepted without question. If there is any reason to suspect misrepresentation, the tax officials have the right to examine all books and records which might help fix the income honestly. This power, with both companies and individuals, is supreme.

"The system works so smoothly that instances of misrepresentation are extremely rare. The punishments provided are fine or imprisonment, or both. I do not recall one instance in which extreme measures had to be resorted to, although I suppose there have been some.

"Forms for making returns are provided in each of the classes fixed by law. The Tax Board consists of a chairman, a deputy chairman and two deputy commissioners. In every town there is a tax collector, to whom returns are made by all companies and individuals having incomes exceeding £160.

"Probably the weakest spot in the British law is its failure to reach a considerable number of workers whose incomes bring them under the law. In South Wales, for instance, the wage for many of the miners is £7 a week. Many of these escape through the meshes in the law, as do many mechanics of the better grades.

Some Miners Evade Law.

"There may be reasons for this. While a miner, for instance, works for a fixed scale, he does not work all time, and it probably has been found that to determine the yearly incomes of such wage earners would involve a greater expense than the total receipts from their taxes. It may be also that in some instances the voting strength of certain groups of wage earners have something to do with their escaping the law.

"No one is exempt under the law except the King, and as the people pay him, it would be merely taking money out of one pocket and putting it into the other.

"If it is argued in this country that the Government would pry into private affairs, the answer would be here, as in Great Britain, that the Government would pry into anyone's affairs only after a strong suspicion arose that there was an effort to evade the law."

PUDGE GOES HOME TO SPOUSE; SNOOKUMS STAYS

Runaway Wife Deserts Runaway Husband She Ran Away With and Hies to Pacific.

The romance of Snookums and Pudge came to an end Wednesday night, when Pudge (Mrs. William P. Fleming) got on a train for Los Angeles, to return to her husband, a delicatessen magnate. Snookums, an English motorcyclist, whose name appears on the police blotter as Harry Humphreys, alias Harvey, is still a holdover guest. He may be sent to Los Angeles to answer his wife's charge of abandonment, if the officials there think it worth while to send after him.

The runaway wife, who came here with the runaway husband, the pair being known as Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, dictated a story of their motorcycle elopement, which she called "Adventures of Snookums and Pudge." It was published in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch. She said at that time she would never return to her considerably older husband. But when the husband's telegraphic order for her return ticket was shown to her by two city detectives soon afterward, she changed her mind, particularly as the husband had sent $38 expense money. She went out shopping with the detectives, and spent all but $4.50, which she saved for meals on the train. Her departure was voluntary, as the police had no charge against her.

"WHAT A DARLING JUDGE"

Cries Woman to Court on Getting a Divorce Decree.

NEW YORK, April 10.—"Oh, what a darling you are, Judge," cried Mrs. Vivienne May Nicholay to Supreme Court Justice Giegerich, when he announced he would grant to her an interlocutory decree of divorce from David S. Nicholay.

The Justice smiled, then rapped the desk with his gavel to quiet laughter in the courtroom. Mrs. Nicholay bowed apologetically and hastened out with her attorney.

'LEFTY' FLYNN AND SHOW GIRL BRIDE SEPARATED

Friends of Athlete Say Parents Will Try to Have His Marriage Annulled.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 10.—Friends of Maurice B. (Lefty) Flynn, the Yale football player, who left college in December to marry Miss Irene Leary, an actress, say an effort will be made to have the marriage annulled. It is understood that the young man has been sent to Europe and that Mrs. Flynn will return to the stage.

The petition for the annullment, it is said, will be made on the ground that the bridegroom was under age when the marriage was contracted. Flynn is 20 years old.

It is said here Flynn wished to return to college after his marriage, but the authorities of the Sheffield school would not allow it. Flynn's friends say that if the marriage is annulled, he probably will return to Yale.

THIEF RETURNS $1000 HE STOLE 26 YEARS AGO

"Trusted Friend" Sends Money in German Bank Notes From Metz to Louisville, Ky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 10.—The stricken conscience of an aged man in Germany was responsible for the return yesterday of German bank notes amounting to nearly $1000 American money to Nicholas Wermeister of this city, who was robbed of that amount at his home in Metz, Germany, 26 years ago.

The letter enclosing the notes was dated March 10, 1913, the anniversary of the theft, and was unsigned.

Although the writer alluded to himself as a "trusted friend, who betrayed the confidence of your household," Wermeister declared he was unable to identify him.

Protective League Formed in Town Where Unmarried People Are Three-Fourths Women.

FARRELL, Pa., April 10.—Bachelors here have organized the Protective Bachelor Club.

As this city has several hundred more marriageable women than there are mates for them, competition in the last two years among the unmarried women has been keen, and each young man who had never been shackled by Cupid was sought after with such ardor as to make the organization of a protective society imperative.

Henry Kliemans, a merchant who is a member of the club, said today: "We had to do something. The marriageable women in this town outnumber the single men three to one. We men all hope to marry some day, but want to choose our own mates and take our time about doing it."

Negro Chauffeur Says He Drove Car Over Curb Into Mud.

A wrecked and abandoned automobile, mired deeply in the mud, was found early Thursday morning opposite the School of Fine Arts at Washington University. The night watchman said that he found the machine at 1:30 a. m.

A negro chauffeur told the police that he was out alone at 6 a. m. and hit the curb at Skinker road. The car ran up the walk toward the main building of the university and off the walk into the mud.

The chauffeur said the machine belongs to Harry Goldman of 2921 Locust street.

MY NEW

Disc Phonograph

"One-half of my life I have spent experimenting with my NEW DISC PHONOGRAPH. My aim was to record music with all the overtones. That was a difficult proposition, and I have finally achieved what I had aimed for—a perfect sound reproducing instrument, reproducing every tone and overtone with perfect fidelity and giving a reproduction of the human voice, that naturalness of quality lacking in other sound reproducing instruments. It is easy to make bombastic claims in advertisements. Let the public hear and decide. That is my wish.

BRAZIL RECOGNIZES CHINESE REPUBLIC

Reports of Li Huan Hung's Assassination Are Denied From Pekin.

PEKIN, April 10.—The Brazilian Government, anticipating similar action on the part of the United States, has cabled to the Chinese Government its recognition of the new republic. The Brazilian and Chinese flags were displayed together over the Government offices today.

Reports circulated that Li Yuan Hung, Vice-President of the Republic, and long the rival of President Yuan Shai Kai for the leadership, had been assassinated are untrue. Both the President and the Vice-President are constantly guarded.

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR AND ITCHING SCALP—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save your hair! Danderine destroys dandruff and stops falling hair at once—Grows hair and we can prove it.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

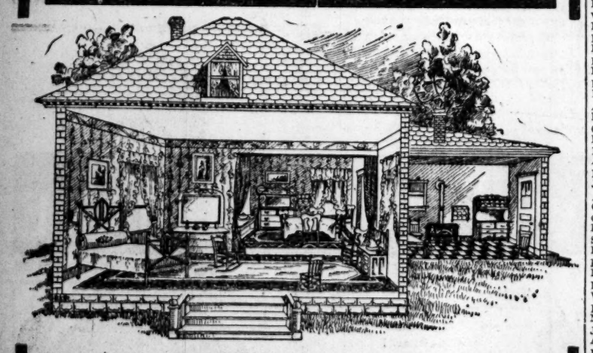

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? A 25-cent bottle will truly amaze you.—ADV.

JENNINGS DROPS SOUTHPAWS FROM LIST OF HITTERS

Crawford Only Tiger Portside Batter Who Will Face Browns' Left-handed Pitcher Today.

By Clarence F. Lloyd.

Old Sol's shining face, which early Thursday morning broke through the lowering clouds, apparently made certain the opening of the local American League baseball race, scheduled to take place this afternoon at Sportsman's Park with the Browns and the Cobless Tigers on the job. For two days it had been a question if the teams would be able to take the field.

The Brownies are a chesty lot and against the weakened Tigers are hopeful of beating the barrier in the American League race. The new city champions had some excellent batting practice in the series with the Cardinals and feel as though they can hit anything offered by Mullin, Willett, Dubuc & Co.

Then the fact that the Junglemen are alleged to be weak against southpaw hurling has also put a lot of confidence in the Browns. To offset this supposed weakness against southpaw hurling, Manager Jennings of the Tigers has made an eleventh-hour switch in his lineup. Provided Manager Stovall carries out his intention of using Pitcher Karl Wellman, or one of the other two southpaws on the staff, Jennings will bench two of his regular outfielders in favor of men who are expected to do better against the port-side flinging.

Bench for "Lefty" High.

Originally he planned to use Ray Fowell, a Western League recruit, in Cobb's place in center, and Hughey High, a St. Louis product, in left field. With Wellman, Hamilton or Leyerenz hurling, however, these youngsters will decorate the bench and George Moriarty, the veteral infielder, and Oscar Vitt, a youngster, will play left field and center field, respectively. With Moriarty and Vitt in the lineup, the Tigers have but a single left-handed hitter—Sam Crawford. And Wahoo Sam doesn't worry what the brand of hurling happens to be.

With Cobb missing, the enemy doesn't look so formidable. That Jennings fears portside pitching is evident from the fact that he is using two of his utility infielders in outfield berths in an effort to bolster the slugging power of his machine.

BATTING ORDER FOR TODAY'S LOCAL GAME

BROWNS.

Gus Williams, right field.
Derrill Pratt, second base.
George Stovall, first base.
James Austin, third base.
Lester Walsh, shortstop.
Samuel Agnew, catcher.
Karl Wellman, pitcher.

DETROIT.

Owen Bush, shortstop.
Oscar Vitt, center field.
Samuel Crawford, right field.
Del Gainer, first base.
Charles Deal, third base.
William Louden, second base.
Oscar Stanage, catcher.
George Mullin, pitcher.

Mullin Has Come Back.

The lone formidable portion of the enemy seems to be in the person of George Mullin. This veteran of a dozen years' standing as a Detroiter has been picked to hurl the opener because of his good work on the Southern junket. He looks fit and may be able to carry the weakened Tiger team to victory. Another thing in Mullin's favor is the fact that Oscar Stanage, his battery mate and a former Cardinal by the way, also looks pounds lighter than a year ago. When right Stanage is one of the best backstops in the League.

Mullin Will Be Pitted Against the Tallest Pitcher in the Game

MULLIN will have as an opponent one of the coming stars of baseball in Karl Wellman. He already has established a reputation for himself and proved that he is on his way to a successful season by the start he made against the Cardinals. The tall left-handed pitcher scored two shutouts against the White Sox last fall, as many against the Cardinals in the fall series and defeated the local National Leaguers in the two games he worked in the series recently ended. The young left-hander looks fit.

Stovall has also decided to stand pat on the lineup that won the city championship from the Cardinals. So well have men like Dee Walsh, Jack Johnston and Sam Agnew performed in the games to date that the manager isn't thinking of making any changes or experimenting as long as the club continues to win. Walsh not only lived up to his reputation as a fielding marvel but surprised even his most ardent admirers by hitting so well against the National League pitchers. Johnston is also off to a good start, while Agnew threatens to create a name as the best young backstop in the League this season.

Mayor-Elect May Attend.

Aside from the baseball game itself, there will be added features. Picking this as the real opening of the local baseball season, instead of the inaugural between the Browns and Cardinals, President Robert Lee Hedges of the Sportsman's Park brigade has invited Mayor-elect Henry Kiel to be on hand. He'll be the guest of honor of the afternoon and will also perform that heroic function of tossing out the first baseball, officially declaring St. Louis' baseball season on. So after all, Washington and President Wilson will have nothing on St. Louis and Mayor-elect Kiel Thursday.

There will be a band on hand to aid the athletes in enlivening things.

Passing of the prunes may take up some of the time when favored home or visiting athletes are remembered. However, if the friends of any of the players have subscribed for gifts for any of the men, they have done so quietly and are going to spring a surprise on the idols of the diamond.

The report is made that the advance sale of reserved seats and boxes is a bulky one and that sunshine only is needed to make the day a successful one.

By defeating the Cardinals in the spring series and annexing the city championship, the Browns won back many of their old friends. They also proved that the team is a huge improvement over the 1912 machine.

Off to a good start against the Cardinals, the baseball "bugs" of St. Louis are pulling for a victory in the opener against the Tigers.

GAMES AT BROWNS' PARK WILL COMMENCE AT 3:30

A change has been made in the starting time of ball games at Sportsman's Park. Instead of ringing up at 3 o'clock as in the spring series, the contests will commence at 3:30 o'clock, beginning Thursday.

Sportsman's Park in Shape.

At 9:30 o'clock the announcement was made from the Browns' headquarters that Sportsman's Park was in good condition and that the game between the Browns and Tigers Thursday afternoon would positively be played, barring rain.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

JIMMY SHECKARD, FORMER CUB STAR, BOUGHT BY CARDS

Other Chicago Players May Figure in Deal Negotiated by Huggins.

By W. J. O'Connor.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Jimmy Sheckard has been released to the St. Louis Cardinals. Other members of the Cub squad may also go to St. Louis. The deal was completed today.

The passing of Jimmy Sheckard from the Chicago team is almost as important an event in the history of the famous old machine as the going of Chance.

He came here from Brooklyn in the spring of 1906, when C. W. Murphy secured control of the club, and has been a very important cog in the winning combination.

He never was one of the heavy hitters of the team, but he was one of the best waiters in the country and got home on bases more times than any other man on the team, and was a great baserunner. He goes to the Cardinals for the waiver price.

MAUPOME LOSES AGAIN; LOCAL CUEISTS THIRD

The St. Louis team must be content with third place in the National Amateur Billiard League race. That's because Pedro Maupome, the Mexican representative of the Mound City, lost the final match to the Pittsburg team in Smoketown Wednesday, 50—42. Charles McCourt played for the Pittsburg team. This victory gives the Pittsburgers a tie for first place with the Chicago team. It is likely that a six-game series will be arranged to settle the supremacy. Following is the standing of the first three teams:

TEAMS.	Won.	Lost.
Pittsburg	26	16
Chicago	26	16
St. Louis	24	18

ARNOLD HAUSER TO UNDERGO OPERATION

Arnold Hauser, the Cardinal shortstop, who is out of the game because of an injured knee, is said to have consented to have an operation performed on the injured member. He has been told that his chances for resuming baseball are slim unless he goes under the knife. His doctor has told him that an operation may bring the injured knee around all right. In the meantime Charley O'Leary, the former Tiger, will continue as the Cardinals' shortstop.

EVERYTHING POINTS THAT WAY.

I MET a man the other day
I'd never seen before;
His whiskers they were long and gray,
His age about three-score.

He seized me by the coat lapel
And grasped me by the hand,
And said: "Oh, prithee can you tell
Just where the Browns will land?"

I looked him squarely in the eye
And answered with decision:
"I'll not deceive you, sir," said I,
"It looks like first division."

* * *

While the spring series takes the edge off of the regular opening, to a certain extent, a little honing of the bat on the horsehide will put the appetite on razor-edge again.

* * *

The Tigers will toe the scratch minus its biggest and sharpest claw.

* * *

It looks as though President Navin intended to let Mr. Cobb work at his regular trade as "one of the leading citizens of Royston, Ga."

* * *

Mr. Weilman of Borneo will perform today.

Back in the Ruck.

EDMOND ROSTAND put into the mouth of Cyrano de Bergerac the brave words: "It is more glorious to fight when there is no hope." Unless there are more Cyranos in the world by about six than we suspect the good old sphere of owning, there will be that number of embittered club leaders at the end of the season inaugurated Thursday.

For at least half a dozen managers are called upon to make the "more glorious" struggle—that against odds, with no chance of winning. In each league three clubs appear to have not the faintest chance of success, from a pennant winning standpoint, this year. Yet both players and managers will have to wear the jaunty front and stagger through the campaign with the eye on "next year"—the manana of the baseball game.

* * *

Comes the Anvil Chorus.

THE tail-end team gets small credit for its fight and its players are sometimes lost sight of in the shadow of the limelight thrown in other directions. Stars merely glow on a loser who might scintillate with a championship team. Efforts that would bring on-looking thousands to their feet with roars of appreciation, if pulled by a pennant contender, get a faint hand clap from the disheartened followers of the tail-ender. Lack of appreciation, jibes and jeers frequently dull the keen edge of endeavor and lead to fatal listlessness and apathy.

* * *

They're Hard to Find.

THE team able to fight on in the face of a "no hope" struggle, however, is not altogether hopeless. It is made up of the right heart and stuff and is bound to make an impression some day.

But where is that team?

As before insinuated, modern Cyranos are as rare as hens with gold-filled teeth, and that's some rare, the chicken family opines.

* * *

In on the Ground Floor.

IN the American League the hopeless outlook is being gazed upon right now by the New York Americans, the Detroit Tigers and our own Browns, and it's a pretty little scrap as to which will occupy the basement. The Cards, Brooklyn and Boston teams are elected in the National League.

It may be said in passing that of the six tail-end teams, the brightest futures—in the dim vista, of course—appear to be in store for the two St. Louis clubs.

* * *

Browns Can Hit the Ball.

THE young Browns take the field with more hope than any other of the six despondent ones. This is because an injection of new blood, that seems not anemic, has made the club's future a trifle doubtful. A fine young pitching staff, two good catchers and at least one good outfield pickup are among the alleviations of Manager Stovall's despair. The team's hitting in the spring series is another encouraging feature, only two men of the club falling below the .300 mark. As the team lacked run-getters last year, this feature is an important advance, if permanent.

Of course, that .311 team batting average of the Browns was made at the expense of spring series pitching, and part of that by recruits. But it indicates a better batting eye than the team boasted last year. Of all six Cyrano clubs, the strength of the Browns is most uncertain, and therefore creates the greatest amount of hope.

Carr Releases Seven Players.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 10.—Seven players were released by the local American Association club today. Roth, an infielder, was sold to the Grand Rapids (Central League) team; Everdon, a pitcher, was released to the York (Nebraska State League) team; Mears, a pitcher, was returned to the Missoula (Mont.) team, and Pitchers Brandom, Rauft, Palmer and Third Baseman Henry were given their unconditional release.

Trendall's Straight Punch Beats Shelton's Haymaker

"Pride of the Patch" Easily Outpoints Former Amateur, but Latter Displays Aggressiveness and Great Improvement Since Campaign in the East.

By Harry S. Sharpe.

Referee for the St. Louis A. C. and the Post-Dispatch's Boxing Authority.

HARRY TRENDALL is another boxer to demonstrate the soundness of a theory that has long held good among fighters—that a straight puncher is more consistently effective than a swinger, all else being even. Trendall won from Jack Shelton last night at the St. Louis Athletic Club because he used a straight left that had speed and force enough behind it to break up most of Shelton's swings and counters.

This was the principal reason.

In addition to this, Trendall was faster, a better boxer and with more experience. He was quick to take advantage of almost every opportunity offered to outbox his opponent and his judgment of distance was so good that he seldom missed blows intended to land and by clever footwork he evaded many of Shelton's hardest swings by stepping just inside or moving quickly backward.

He often fooled his opponent by clever feinting and had Shelton swinging when there was hardly a chance to land the blow or else had him drawing his hands and arms close to the body in anticipation of the blow he was made to think was coming.

Trendall did not rely solely upon a straight left, but it was the principal blow he used in the early rounds of the fight and was the line of attack that opened up opportunities for the use of right straight and cross counters and the employment of a right uppercut that ripped its way from the waist line to he face or head with damaging effect.

Now for Shelton—This boy shows great improvement since he left St. Louis for a campaign in the South and East. He has learned to guard better and, though he swings, he does so with less circling than he did as an amateur and in the beginning of his professional career. Shelton was never much of a straight puncher, but when he does resort to straight hitting it is far more effective than formerly. Shelton has shortened his swing so that it lands quicker than formerly, and against a less clever blocker and boxer than Harry Trendall it probably would land oftener and with force enough to punish and pave the way to a knockout. Shelton has learned, too, to advance with his blows, and when he must give way he breaks ground nicely and with a firm footing.

He is strong and can assimilate a world of punishment, and proved it last night in his bout with Trendall. He showed great recuperative power, particularly in the fifth round. He had been severely punished in the fourth round by a perfect shower of hard left jabs, right crosses and uppercuts, and went to his corner pretty badly used up. Notwithstanding this fact, he came out for the fifth and fought his hardest, faster and harder than he had shown in any previous round.

His vigorous assault was so sudden and swift that Trendall was forced to be careful in avoiding the hard blows that were sent his way, but Shelton landed some of them and shook Harry from head to foot. It was not until almost the close of this round that Trendall seemed to deem it safe to stand his ground and exchange. When he did, however, he had the better of it.

THE boxers never changed their styles, and it was a true test of the straight puncher against the swinger. Each round was almost a repetition of the others. Trendall's straight punches were the most effective because they generally landed where they were aimed, while Shelton's swings more often wound their way about the head and neck, were blocked or fell short. Trendall's punches left their mark, and by the ending of the sixth round Shelton's left eye was almost closed and his mouth and nose were badly battered, while Trendall left the ring with scarcely a mark, though he was in the midst of swinging blows from beginning to end.

Shelton recently defeated Joe Sherman before the Future City Athletic Club because his swings were harder and faster against a boxer of the same style, but, though he put up just as good a battle at his style, Shelton was beaten last night by Harry Trendall because the latter employs a close defense and uses a straight punch that travels faster and has less distance to cover than a swing.

Trendall, too, was quicker to take advantage of openings and seldom let an opportunity slip. For instance, in the third round, when Shelton was thrown off balance by a hard swing that missed, Trendall stepped quickly in and peppered his opponent with three or four left jabs before Shelton could recover his balance and get away.

There were many desperate exchanges, but in all of them Shelton was whaling away in the general direction of Trendall without much judgment of distance, while Trendall was cool and calculating, placing his blows better and with more damaging effect.

Twice it looked as if Shelton might be put out, but either Trendall's blows lack the necessary steam of a knockout punch or Shelton has acquired an iron jaw.

Shelton deserves praise for his display of courage and aggressiveness. Though he was facing the best lightweight St. Louis has turned out, he never faltered, and it was largely due to this fact that the bout was one of the best ever witnessed here. Had Shelton tried to avoid the punishment that seemd inevitable every time he came within reach of Trendall it might have been a poor bout, but the boy bent to his work with an energy and determination that was commendable to a degree.

Trendall and Shelton demonstrated that good boxing and hard hitting can prevail without resort to unfair tactics and unnecessary rough work. There was but little clinching and less holding, and the contest was won and lost strictly upon the merits of two good and willing boxers.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Today's opening baseball game here, with the Cardinals and Cubs as scheduled opponents, had to be called off this morning because of the cold and rain. The outlook at present makes it dubious if even Friday's contest can take place.

Huggins was disappointed at the postponement, as he figures his men were as ready as they could hope to be. Harry Sallee was especially in good fettle as a result of the spring series games with the Browns.

Cobb Must Sign at Club's Terms or Not at All

President Navin of Detroit Tigers Opposed to Making Concessions to Holdout.

Ty Cobb, balking Detroit outfielder, and Frank Navin, president of the Tigers, may meet in St. Louis to talk over the salary question. If they are planning anything like that however, Manager Hughey Jennings say he doesn't know anything about their proposed meeting.

Because Cobb canceled a game with the Anniston, Ga. team it was rumored that he would make a hurry up jump to St. Louis to see the Detroit magnate, who is expected here for the season's opening at Sportsman's Park Thursday. Jennings says he doesn't know if Mr. Navin is coming to see the curtain rung up. When asked about Cobb, though, he came through with:

"He'll have to sign at the club's terms or not at all."

Is A Wonder in the Blood

A Remedy That Has Shown a Most Remarkable Purifying Effect.

The word medicine is one of the most abused in our language. There are certain medicinal properties just as necessary to health as the food we eat. Take, for example, the well-known tonic medicine S. S. S. The famous blood purifier contains medicinal components just as vital and essential to healthy blood as the elements of wheat, roast beef, the fats and the sugars that make up our daily ration.

As a matter of fact, there is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply; why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming eczema, rash, pimples, and all skin afflictions.

And in regenerating the tissues S. S. S. has a rapid and positive antidotal effect upon those irritating influences that cause rheumatism, sore throat, weak eyes, falling hair, loss of weight, thin, pale cheeks, and that weariness of muscle and nerve that is generally experienced as spring fever. Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, and in a few days you will not only feel bright and energetic, but you will see the picture of new life. S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who maintain a very efficient Medical Department, where all who have any blood disorder of a stubborn nature may write freely for advice and a special book of instruction. S. S. S. is sold everywhere by all drug stores, department and general stores.

STOCK MARKET LOWER IN THE LATE SESSION

Talk of New Securities Issues Causes Selling in Special Stocks.

London Cheerful in Expectation of Balkan Peace.

LONDON, April 10.—Money and discount rates easy. The stock market maintained a fairly good tone under investment buying and the belief that the Balkan situation will soon improve. Consols and giltedge securities advanced on the good bank statement, and public support. Gold shares were benefited by the gold output for the month. The Continent bought favorites, but speculative issues closed easy on profit-taking. American securities were firm and stocks in fair demand during the early session, but New York offerings in the afternoon caused recessions. The close was easy.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Today's price movement reflected further unsettlement after the market had displayed considerable strength soon after the opening, when the best prices of the day were made.

"Baltimore & Ohio, St. Paul and New York Central were the weak features, although in the course of the afternoon decline some of the standard shares sold more than a point below the high level of the day.

"During much of the time when the rest of the market was weak, Reading ruled strong, on the oft-reported rumors concerning the great benefits which would accrue to shareholders through the segregation of assets. Toward the close Reading declined with the rest of the market.

"Of the news bearing upon the market Steel Trust showing of unfilled orders came in for some comment. The total of 7,468,956 tons standing on the Corporation's books at the close of March, represented a reduction for the month of 187,758 tons.

"The figure reported was the smallest shown at the close of any month since last September, but it is still the largest total ever disclosed at the end of March, 40 per cent above a year ago, and 118 per cent above two years ago.

The St. Paul Loan.

"Announcement of the new St. Paul loan caused other corporations to sound the bankers concerning the possibility of floating various bond issues, some of which have been deferred for several months.

"These negotiations did not get beyond the tentative stage, however, since most bankers were indisposed to enter into such committments until it was seen how investors responded to the offerings already arranged.

"This led to some readjustment by both the life companies and the savings banks, which within the last few days have indicated their willingness to purchase very high-grade bonds at a price showing an income return of 4½ per cent or better.

"The weekly statements of the great foreign banks disclosed some very interesting changes, the French Bank reporting $61,000,000 reduction in loans, $18,000,000 in note circulation, with $1,025,000 gain in gold holdings.

"These changes largely offset the expansion of the week before, which reflected preparations for the heavy April financing.

"The English bank so strengthened its position as to raise its percentage of reserve to liabilities from 41¾ to 45, which is above that reported at this date in any year since 1909."

COTTON MARKET DOWN ON BEARISH CABLES

NEW YORK, April 10.—In response to lower cables the cotton market today opened at a decline of 1 to 4 points. A break was reported in the Mississippi River levee at Wilson, Ark., threatening to flood the entire St. Francis basin. Memphis reported a further rise in the river and there were further rains in the cental belt, but realizing fully offset buying orders.

Better weather predictions brought about more general offerings after the call, and so also did selling of old crop positions by spot brokers. Under this pressure prices eased off from the opening.

After showing a net loss of 6 to 8 points the market steadied on foreign buying and predictions of unfavorable weather in the Carolinas and Central and Western belts.

A rally of 3 or 4 points seemed to attract increased offereings, however, and the market at midday was unsettled with the active months 7 to 10 points net lower on reports that planting was going ahead rapidly in North Alabama.

In the early afternoon reports that the river at Memphis was falling brought about a more favorable view of the flood situation. Prices sold off to a net loss of 10 to 15 points under liquidation by recent buyers and a renewal of bear pressure. The closing was irregular.

Cotton spot closed quiet. Middling uplands 12.50c; middling gulf, 12.75c; sales, 100 bales.

LIVERPOOL, April 10.—Cotton—Spot steady; middling fair, 7.56d; good middling, 7.22d; middling, 7d; low middling, 6.84d; good ordinary, 6.50d; ordinary, 6.16d. Sales, 8000, including 500 for speculation and export, and 700 American. Receipts 1000, no American. Futures opened quite and steady and closed quiet.

Hog Prices Firm.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Strength was shown in hogs today. Receipts were light though much improved over yesterday and there was a good buying demand for the better class of stock especially. Cattle receipts were large. As the demand did not come up to the supply the market was slow. Sheep were dull.

United Railways preferred sold at $36.50 and $36 at the early session of the local Stock Exchange Thursday, then droped to $34 bid and offers at $36, establishing a new low record for the security. The selling for the session totaled 125 shares, and was attributed by brokers to the closing out of a weak speculative account that is said to have been hanging over the market for some time.

At the afternoon session the stock dropped from early sales at $35 to late ones at $34 and closing bids at $34, with offers at $34.25. National Bank of Commerce was firmer on transfers at $141.25. Other issues were quiet.

The common stock also weakened with the preferred to bids at $11.62½ and offers at $12.50. The 4s were ⅜ of a point lower on sales of $14,000 worth at $72.62½ and $72.50.

The bank and trust list was quiet and National Bank of Commerce showed a firmer tone on sales at $141 and $140.62½. Commonwealth Trust was steady at $90.50 sales and bids. Other securities quoted showed no important changes from the preceding session.

	Today.	Week Ago.	Year Ago.
Cattle	1,500	1,500	1,537
Hogs	5,500	10,500	9,769
Sheep	1,100	1,800	2,791
Horses and mules.	100	50	130

NATIVE CATTLE—Receipts today totaled 1500 head, a light run. Other Western markets were also short on supplies, and buyers got busy early. Prices ruled strong, with an early clearance. Steers sold up to $8.85, equaling the week's top.

SOUTHERN CATTLE—There were no fresh arrivals for the day. A few loads of heldover from Wednesday were sold at steady prices. They were Texas grass steers and brought as high as $7.50.

HOGS—Receipts light and the market was on a higher basis. Buyers were anxious for hogs and the competition was keen enough to enable sellers to get a full dime advance over the Wednesday trade. The top was $9.32½ and the bulk went at $9.10@9.25. Shippers and butchers were busy buyers and paid the highest prices. They secured the good hogs at $9.20 and upwards, while the packers paid $9@9.15 for the fair to good mixed offerings. The best end of the lights went at $9@9.30, best pigs brought $8.50@9, medium grades $8@8.40, fair kinds $7@7.85, and the rough heavy throwout packers $8.35@8.65. The close was firm and the clearance good.

SHEEP—A moderate supply was received and the market was active with prices on a steady to strong basis. Best lambs went at $8.75@9.25, clipped lambs $8@8.50, mutton sheep $6.50@7, stockers $3.50@4.50 and bucks $5.25@5.50.

HORSES AND MULES—The horse market continues to be good, with only about 200 head to sell and buyers were taking hold freely; prices are good. There is a slight demand for extra good big mules and miners from 14 to 15 and a half hands high. Otherwise the market is very quiet.

A weather map indicating clear skies over the winter wheat belt following the rains of the past few days, made for an uncertain price movement in futures Thursday. There was, however, little pressure of offerings, as the trade is disinclined to sell contracts at this season of the year, despite the almost perfect outlook.

Experts in the fields in Kansas and Nebraska sent in optimistic reports on the growing wheat, with a minimum amount of abandoned acreage.

B. W. Snow estimated the crop in Kansas at 100,000,000 bu, while the Kansas City Star says record yields are indicated in Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri.

Foreign markets were steady on our advance of Wednesday, but the trade is inclined to the belief that Chicago's bull crowd has manipulated futures in Liverpool for influence on domestic prices for manipulation ther is easy at present, owing to small stocks.

The official Liverpool cable said: "The market opened with some covering by shorts in a moderate way, which resulted in an advance of ⅛@¼d, and following the opening there was a further advance of ⅛d in the near months. Canadian offers are firmer, and the strength in Paris and Buenos Ayres helped the advance. Later there was some disposition for profits on the limited inquiry from the Continent and a private forecast received of heavy Argentine shipments this week, with correspondingly large world's shipments.

"Corn opened ⅛d to ¼d higher, and later the Plate grade further advanced ⅛d on the firmness in Buenos Ayres and the strength in spot. American offers were larger.

Liverpool wheat futures closed ¼d to ½d up, corn ⅛d to ⅝d up. Paris wheat ⅝c up, flour ¼c to 1c up. Antwerp wheat ⅝c up; Berlin ⅜c up, and Budapest ½c lower.

Minneapolis wheat cars were 202, against 287 last week and 128 last year. Duluth had 12, against 23 and 6. Winnipeg 231, against 207 and 421. Minneapolis wheat stock increased 85,000 bu in five days.

Local wheat receipts were 38,400 bu, or 22 cars local, 10 through; last year, 12,000 bu, or 7 cars local, 3 through. Corn receipts 88,800 bu, or 61 cars local, 13 through; last year, 48,000 bu, or 36 cars local, 4 through. Oats receipts 44,200 bu, or 16 cars local, 10 through; last year, 30,600 bu, or 6 cars local, 12 through.

B. W. Snow wired from Hutchinson, Kan.: "Making full allowance for lateness and uncertain position of crop west of 100th meridian, involving approximately 1,000,000 acres, Kansas starts with an easy possibility of 100,000,000 bu or upward. In the counties that have six-sevenths of the area there is hardly an acre to be abandoned, and with this perfect stand there is ample moisture for early growth. Oats are coming up in good shape, with increased acreage. Present cool weather highly favorable to stooling."

Inglis wired from Lansing, Mich.: "Through Northern counties of Indiana and Southern Michigan, wheat runs very uneven. While the largest acreage is good there are many fields showing small growth and thin stands. Light rain today, not sufficient to stap field work."

Minneapolis wired: "Good cash demand, with choice wheat relatively scarce. No. 1 northern blue stem going mostly 1c over May, and velvet chaff 1c under blue stem. Flour sales still moderate, but the mill-feed demand has broadened and is about equal to supply."

The Northwestern Miller says:

"The Minneapolis flour output last week decreased 20,225 bbls; the output for the week ending April 5 was 298,323 bbls, against 284,185 in 1912, and 306,290 in 1911, and 209,585 in 1910. This week the capacity in operation is slightly larger than last week, although only 15 mills are running. It is doubtful, however, if the production will reach 300,000 bbls. A year ago the output was 271,820 bbls. Minneapolis and interior mills experienced a dull business last week and while trade had been slow previously, sales showed a further shrinkage. Buyers are on the whole bearish and are taking flour only as necessities require. The season in the Northwest is rather backward and seeding and preparation for it have not progressed to the extent usual at this date. A little wheat seeding has been done in Southern Minnesota and South Dakota. However, it does not amount to very much. With good weather, more activity will be witnessed by the end of the present week. In North Dakota and Northern Minnesota very much less than the normal amount of plowing was done last fall. This is considered an adverse condition. Somewhat the same situation applies to Western South Dakota. It is possible for enough plowing yet to be done to insure wheat acreage in the Northwest equal to the average. However, farmers are of the view that spring plowing does not produce the best results and they are inclined to seed less wheat owing to this belief."

Argentine cabled: "Plowing for wheat in the North is progressing well, with the weaver favorable and the soil excellent."

France—Heavy rain has fallen and the weather is still rainy. Many complaints are being heard of damage and vermin is causing apprehension.

Corn futures reflected late selling and lost a sharp fraction. Chances for clear weather, with increased receipts, helped the bears. The recent run-in of shorts also has weakened the technical position of the market. Oats were steady on delayed seeding.

Total primary wheat receipts were 480,000 bu, against 135,000 bu last year; shipments, 292,000 bu, against 282,000 bu last year; corn receipts, 392,000 bu, against 240,000 bu last year; shipments, 333,000 bu, against 330,000 bu last year; oats receipts, 454,000 bu, against 349,000 bu last year; shipments, 612,000 bu.

Clearances: Wheat, 72,000 bu; flour, 21,000; corn, 37,000; oats, 32,000; wheat and flour, 212,000.

Chicago wheat cars were 13; corn, 91; oats, 108. Estimated Friday: Wheat, 31; corn, 154; oats, 146.

St. Louis cash wheat about steady. Inspections small, but some carry-overs. Hard winter, strong, with local and outside mills buying more freely. Choice soft winter ready sale to local and nearby mills, but ordinary and poor grades hard to sell.

Cash corn, ½c to 1c up. Forty-six cars inspected, and demand good for all grades.

Cash oats steady to firm; offers limited and all white; some mixed carried over. Good demand from dealers and some shipping orders.

MILLIONBUCKS HAS MONEY TO BURN, BUT—

THE JARR FAMILY

By Roy L. McCardell

MR. JARR, Mr. Rangle and Gus, moved by a spring impulse, resolved to buy spring hats for their adored wives. They would pick them out themselves, adding their personal interest to the cost of the gift, and so together they sallied forth. Mr. Jarr wanted to lead them into the West End, but Rangle objected. He said:

"We'll go to a good department store, where we'll get just as good styles as you'd get in those swell bonnet shops, and still we'll only be paying a fair price."

"Three dollars is enough," said Gus. "My silk hat I only pay $5 for, and women's hats ain't made of silk like a man's, Kelly."

The other two regarded him with withering scorn.

"After this," said Mr. Jarr tensely, "I sympathise with your wife!"

"Me, too!" said Mr. Rangle.

"For why? Should a lady woman's hat cost more as a keg of beer?" asked Gus.

"Come on and stop four-flushing!"

At the store they selected a horde of women swept in and out. Some carried bundles, others dragged clamoring offspring after them, but all ruthlessly walked over and shoved aside all male persons.

"I tell you what," said Gus, as he regarded the scene askance. "You fellers go in and pick my Lena a hat. Me, my heart ain't good. Here's $20.'

"Your heart is better than it was," remarked Mr. Jarr. "You were talking about a $3 hat and now you are coughing up $20 bucks."

"Me, I would give $50 not to go in that place. Fighting with women, except my Lena, I ain't used to, and I'm tired of that."

"I gather from Gus' disjointed remarks that he thinks we look too much like a forlorn hope or a committee on resolutions or something of that sort," faltered Mr. Rangle. "I agree with him. We'll do much better if just one of us goes in and picks all three hats. Jarr, you are always eager to listen to hen cackle. You know what's what in women's wear. You go in and buy three hats, and Gus and I will go see the moving pictures or bowl a frame at the first joint, or something. Here's $20, too."

"One for all, all for one!" said Mr. Jarr firmly. "I am not expert on feminine frippery any more than you two skates are. So you'll trail with me."

Mr. Rangle tapped his head significantly to Gus, behind Mr. Jarr's back.

"Let's make a sporting proposition of it," he said. "We'll match coins. The odd man goes to the front for the bonnets."

Mr. Jarr was game, but he little recked the head tapping was the old signal. Rangle and Gus saw they held their coins heads up. Mr. Jarr's was heads also.

The second trial Mr. Jarr held tails. He was the victim.

"I'll know where to find you two," he said, cheerfully. "There's one on the corner has pool tables in the back!"

And, with a fool's valor, he plunged inside the ladies' paradise, where male angels fear to tread!

What followed was, as he afterward used to say, "a horrid dream."

A polite personage in a frock coat and beautifully creased trousers, seeing Mr. Jarr was bewildered though brave, gave him a sweet smile as he headed him off just inside the store's main entrance.

This polite personage, as Mr. Jarr used to tell in later days, when describing his quest of the three spring hats, had a strange seeming of being entirely parted in the middle.

His hair was parted in the middle, dainty little sidewhiskers gave his face the appearance of being divided in the middle. His natty cravat was divided into two ends. His coat was double breasted. His waistcoat was the same, and to its lower pockets, right and left, a thin gold watch chain, divided in the middle by a fraternal society charm, ran shyly to end in a watch, perchance on one side, and in a gold matchbox, maybe, on the other.

But Mr. Jarr knew he was only the main-entrance floorwalker, and he answered him shortly that he sought the ladies' spring hat department.

"Main floor, third aisle to the left!" said the parted-in-the-middle functionary, and Mr. Jarr headed west.

But a swirl of bargain-hunters bore him up against the bank of elevators at the side.

"Going up!" said the elevator man, as the women, shoving Mr. Jarr in ahead of them, rushed in and jammed him up against the iron work in the back of the cage. "First floor: Rugs! China! Picture Frames! Upholstery! Furniture!"

"Hats!" gasped Mr. Jarr, as a fat lady fell over him as the elevator came to a sudden stop.

"Gents' furnishings on main floor," he added for Mr. Jarr's benefit, while all the women in the car gazed at the latter scornfully.

It was at this point that Mr. Jarr began to wonder what he had ever seen in men like Rangle and Gus.

"I want to get to the ladies' hat department," whimpered Mr. Jarr.

Mr. Jarr emerged with a tall lady who was jerking a skinny little girl by the arm.

"Are the hats on this floor, madame?" he asked as the elevator bounded on upward with its more or less precious freight.

"Don't you dare speak to me, loafer!" cried the lady. "You have followed me for an hour. I'll call a policeman!"

But Mr. Jarr dodged to the left under a canvas canoe that was standing end up against the wall, and in another moment found himself safe across the great floor space to where a lot of women were pawing over a counter covered with untrimmed hat shapes of fearsome curves and angles.

"Ladies' trimmed hats?" he gasped.

"Imported millinery department, sixth floor," replied the saleslady.

Stories St. Louisans Tell

BUTTONS ON MEN'S SLEEVES.

DR. OTTO A. WALL, the botanist, has little patience with extreme styles in men's wear. In his lectures to young men at the St. Louis College of Pharmacy, he warns against eccentric dressing, declaring innovations are results of foolishness. He illustrates in this way:

"Buttons on coat sleeves are there because, a long time ago, officers in the German army were inclined to wipe their noses on their sleeves. Buttons were put on the sleeves to stop this and when the habit had been broken, the buttons were moved to the other side and retained as ornaments. So you see how foolish styles are."
